Landmark Essays on Writing Centers Christina Murphy, Joe Law, 2013-10-18 This collection introduces the reader to the ideas that have shaped writing center theory and practice The essays have been selected not only for the insight they offer into issues but also for their contributions to writing center scholarship These papers help to chart the legitimization of writing centers by providing both a history and an examination of the philosophies praxis and politics that have defined this emerging field They demonstrate the ways a clearer profile of the discipline has emerged from the research and reflection of writers like those represented here This volume charts the emergence of writing centers and the growing recognition of their contributions roles and importance As a nascent discipline writing centers reflect the concerns with marginality and with finding a respected place in the academy that characterize any new field of academic inquiry practice and research Concomitantly professionals in these fields seek standing within the academy and a way of defining and validating their contributions to the educational process Contemporary writing center theorists look to interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary investigations to interpret the work they do and to clarify their aims to the academy at large Their work employs a variety of philosophical perspectives ranging from sociolinguistics to psychoanalytic theory to show the complex nature and potential of writing center interactions The idea has now become the multidimensional realities of the writing center within the academy and within society as a whole What its role will be in future redefinitions of the educational process how that role will be negotiated and evaluated and how professionals will shape educational values will constitute the future landmark directions and essays on writing center theory and practice Championing Cutting-Edge 21st Century Mentoring and Learning Models and Approaches , 2020-08-10 This exciting addition to scholarly practice showcases a range of invited national and international authors who bring together their expertise knowledge and previous studies to this edition It is the fourth book in the series Global Education in the 21st Century and focuses upon mentoring in education What is evident within each of the chapters and is a theme throughout this book is the constant search to articulate the mentoring relationship and to explore within each diverse context the effect of this relationship upon those involved This thread of intentional discovery is both exciting and exhaustive What is clear when the totality of chapters are now examined and the key lessons to be learnt are derived is that the adoption of any one approach and theoretical framework for mentoring in educational contexts is likely to be fraught That is the authors have expertly explored both the challenges and advantages of their specific context and the powerful lessons within each context clearly illustrating the relevance and interrelationship of the context to the mentoring approach This prevailing message presents significant challenges for educators setting up a tension between the various aspects of mentoring such as nurturing imitation reflective practice and disruptive challenging When overlaid with the possibility of a shifting transformational role between the mentor and the mentee the challenges appear vast But the passion and spirit of the search is also evident in each of the chapters presented here and the overall conclusion of the combined chapters making up the authority of the book is the ardour and voice of educational contexts and diversity framed in the professional development and learning scaffolds supplied by each of the authors It is this commitment that will sustain education and mentoring well into the future Contributors are Veysel Akakın Anastasios Tasos Barkatsas Tania Broadley Andrea Chester Anthony Clarke Angela Clarke Yksel Dede Kathy Jordan Gracan Kaya Huk Yuen Law Kathy Littlewood Darren Lingley Tricia McLaughlin Juanjo Mena Peter Saunders Naomi Wilks Smith Dallas Wingrove and Sophia Xenos

Whitman, 1988-05-14 Efforts in higher education to use students as teachers peer teaching thus providing them with the benefits traditionally enjoyed by professors are described Four sections focus on the following 1 peer teaching and the psychological basis for its benefits cognitive level affective level and peer learning 2 types of peer teaching used in higher education teaching assistants tutors counselors partnerships and work groups 3 strategies for academic planners public relations recruitment and selection training peer teaching manuals and systematic approaches and 4 how the classroom teacher can implement peer teaching peer teaching experiences and approaches to peer teaching The importance of further study to know whether different peer groups can be used consciously to enhance the learner's commitment to academic work is noted A review of the literature on the subject reveals a need to better study the role of the professor in peer teaching The fact that evaluation of peer teaching is fairly primitive raises the points that faculty should proceed cautiously in starting new programs and there is a huge opportunity for evaluation studies Recommendations from current literature include the following learning may occur when students work cooperatively both peer teachers and peer learners learn and learning may increase with a blend of situations in which professors are present and are not present Contains about 130 references SM

Best Practices for Mentoring in Online Programs Susan Ko, Olena Zhadko, 2022-09-07 Best Practices for Mentoring in Online Programs is a straightforward guide to creating meaningful lasting mentoring programs for faculty or students enrolled in fully or predominantly online programs Faculty and student mentoring programs are proliferating in higher education including peer mentoring group network mentoring and career mentoring making it all the more important that administrators and instructors incorporate research based best practices for effective and successful implementation Divided into two sections the first on mentoring programs for faculty the second on programs for students this volume engages a broad variety of mentoring models and contexts across disciplines paying special attention to the effective strategies and common problems associated with online mentoring The book addresses the practical aspects of setting up running structuring and evaluating online mentoring programs along with the recruitment selection compensation and recognition of mentors Case studies and interviews bring to life the challenges and opportunities of mentorship including how to resolve discussions pertaining to difficult or controversial issues while a wealth of resources templates and checklists will help administrators and faculty take concrete steps towards implementing or developing programs tailored to their needs and institutional contexts
