

To let me blood, and not restore What I have lost with cordial fruit? Sure there was wine Before my sighs did dry it: there was corn Before my tears did drown it. Is the year only lost to me? Have I no bayes to crown it? No flowers, no garlands gay? all blasted? All wasted?
Not so, my heart: but there is fruit, And thou hast hands. Recover all thy sigh-blown age On double pleasures: leave thy cold dispute Of what is fit and not. Forsake thy cage, Thy rope of sands, Which petty thoughts have made, and made to thee Good cable, to enforce and draw, And be thy law,	10
While thou didst wink and wouldst not see. Away; take heed: I will abroad. Call in thy deaths head there: tie up thy fears. He that forbears To suit and serve his need, Deserves his load.	20
But as I rav'd and grew more fierce and wild At every word, Me thoughts I heard one calling, Child! And I reply'd, My Lord.	25

2.1	Analyse the speaker's state of mind in this poem. The speaker is a priest and he feels angry and rebellious. ✓ The poem explores the feelings of the poet feeling trapped. ✓ [Award 2 marks for any two relevant and distinct points.]	(2)
2.2	Discuss the allusion in line 7. It is a reference to pain and suffering ✓ and might refer to the image of Jesus Christ on the cross. ✓ [Award 2 marks for two relevant and distinct points.]	(2)
2.3	Explain the speaker's attitude towards his faith. His faith and his joy in his faith is lost to him. □ He describes his faith as being unfruitful. □ The only rewards he gets is pain and suffering. □ [Award 3 marks only if the speaker's attitude is discussed.]	(3)
2.4	Critically discuss whether this poem is convincing in its logic and persuasion? Provide reasons for your answer. Open answer. Candidates might refer to the 'quiet end' as a fitting sense of peace and restored faith to contrast with the speaker's rant throughout the poem.	(3)

This book argues for the necessity of a Shakespeare education that finds meaning in the texts through inviting in the prior knowledge, experiences and ideas of students, combines intellectual, social and emotional learning and develops a critical perspective on what a cultural inheritance is all about. It offers a comprehensive exploration of the educational principles underpinning theatre based practice and explains how and why this practice can open up the possibilities of Shakespeare study in the classroom. It empowers Shakespeare educators working with young people aged 5-18 to interact critically, creatively and collaboratively with Shakespeare as a living artist. Drawing on the authors' research and experience with organizations including the Royal Shakespeare Company, Shakespeare's Globe, the Folger and Coram Shakespeare Schools Foundation, Part One consolidates recent developments in the field and engages in lively dialogue with core questions of Shakespeare's place in the classroom. Part Two curates a series of interviews with leaders and practitioners from the above and other Shakespeare institutions exploring their core principles and practices. Part Three presents chapters from and about classroom teachers who share their experiences of successfully embedding theatre based approaches to Shakespeare in their own diverse contexts. Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy. The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages. Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools. The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies.

successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience 1980 Census of Population and Housing: Alabama ,1982 1980 Census of Population and Housing: New Jersey ,1982
