Ethics, Meaningfulness, and Mutuality Ruth Yeoman,2019-11-21 There is an urgent need to understand how private and public organisations can play a role in promoting human values such as fairness dignity respect and care Globalisation technological advance and climate change are changing work organisations and systems in ways which foster inequality alienation and collective risk Against this backdrop organisations are being urged to make their contribution to the common good take account of the interests of multiple stakeholders and respond ethically as well as efficiently to complex challenges which transcend traditional organisational and state boundaries Ethics Meaningfulness and Mutuality poses critical questions related to organisational design by challenging limits to current thinking such as the neglect by political philosophers of markets firms and stakeholders or by organisational theorists of business ethics In so doing the book advances our understanding of the theory and practice of ethical organising Specifically meaningfulness and mutuality will be used to yield values and principles for a philosophy of ethical organising which includes an account of human values in morally desirable collective action and examines the relationship of collective action to the contested concept of shared value creation Within a philosophy of ethical organising mutuality permits an examination of the unavoidable relational nature of collective action whereas meaningfulness addresses fundamental human concerns for significance and leading a life we have reason to value By addressing our status as relational beings with human needs for meaning a philosophy of ethical organising brings critical thinking to the creation of morally informed organisational practices which are not only instrumentally beneficial for addressing wicked problems but are normatively desirable for human flourishing

Writing Assignments Across University Disciplines Roger Graves,2017-12-07 Writing Assignments Across the University Curriculum as a whole asks and answers these questions What kinds of documents do students write in a wide range of university degree programs in Canada How do instructors structure those writing assignments That is who is the audience for the assignments Do students get formative feedback as they develop their documents Do the patterns we found in a small liberal arts college Graves Hyland and Samuels 2010 occur in other kinds of universities We took our cue from an article by Anson and Dannels 2009 who pointed us toward the idea that students experience a curriculum through their degree progress in an academic program Consequently we needed to map the writing assignments according to how different departments organized these degree programs Results that were organized by curricular unit departments faculties or colleges or programs units were more significant than general statistics because students would progress through these courses to a degree Several chapters in the book describe how this kind of curricular mapping provided a spark for curricular reform in Engineering Education and an entire small university The last two chapters report on the instructors perspective on their assignments what they were intending to do and why they both resisted and engaged in curricular discussions
