and Systems Communication and Management Indian Business Case Studies Volume VIII Srilatha Palekar, Arun Pardhi, Sunanda Jindal, 2022-06-13 It has been decades since many business schools outside India adopted the case study methodology for teaching almost all branches of management studies. This trend has been seen in India too where top management institutes have implemented the case study based methodology as an important pedagogical tool in business education. The major issue in India however is a severe shortage of Indian case studies through which business schools can provide industry insights to students. This volume fills that gap. It has twenty Indian cases related to different aspects of business management. The cases cover some of the prominent disciplines of management like marketing, finance, human resource management, strategy management, operations management, accounting and mergers and acquisitions. These cases best serve the purpose of adoption of case methodology in classroom teaching or online lecture sessions for the faculty and students of business management.

The Geographies of Air Transport Andrew R. Goetz, Lucy Budd, 2016-03-09 Making a detailed contribution to geographies of air transport and aeromobility, this book examines the practices and processes that produce particular patterns of air transport provision both regionally and globally. In so doing it updates the seminal contributions of Eva Taylor 1945, Kenneth Sealy 1957, Brian Graham 1995 and others to the study of air transport geography. Leading scholars in the field offer a unique insight into the key developments that have occurred in the field and the implications that these developments have had for geography, geographers and global patterns of past, present and future air transport. Although globalization and liberalization processes have greatly expanded the demand for air transport over the last two decades, the industry has experienced several major setbacks due to economic security and environmental concerns. Many of these impacts have been much more pronounced in some regions such as North America and Europe while others such as Asia Pacific have not been as adversely affected. Accordingly, there is a clear need to examine these recent economic and geopolitical changes from a geographical perspective given the differentiated pattern of effects from global processes. Addressing this need, this volume opens with thematic chapters covering key topics such as the historical geographies, socio-cultural mobilities, environmental externalities, urban geographies and sustainability of the global air transport industry, followed by regional analysis of the industry in Asia Pacific, Latin America, Greater Middle East and Africa, as well as North America and Europe.

Emirati Women Journalists Noura Al Obeidli, 2024-07-30 This book presents a rare investigation of the media landscape and gender dynamics in Emirati newsrooms with a socio-cultural focus on the influence of tribal patriarchy in determining Emirati women's role as newsmakers. Shedding light on the stories of 40 Emirati and Arab expat journalists, including pioneer Emirati women journalists, the book offers insight into how these journalists construct gender differences and identity and how this influences their everyday attitudes, conversations, routines and journalistic practices. The empirical study is supplanted with ethnographic explanations of the newsroom norms and journalistic practices from the author who used participant observation inside two major news centres in Abu Dhabi and Dubai to understand the socio cultural factors that shape the lives of Emirati and Arab expat journalists their thoughts and beliefs about the media environment in the Emirates and their opinions on authoritarian political control censorship and outdated media law This book will interest students and scholars of journalism and journalistic practice media policy international journalism gender studies and Middle East studies
