Course Correction Paul W. Gooch, 2019-03-14 Course Correction engages in deliberation about what the twenty first century university needs to do in order to re find its focus as a protected place for unfettered commitment to knowledge not just as a space for creating employment or economic prosperity The university s business Paul W Gooch writes is to generate and critique knowledge claims and to transmit and certify the acquisition of knowledge In order to achieve this a university must have a reputation for integrity and trustworthiness and this in turn requires a diligent and respectful level of autonomy from state religion and other powerful influences It also requires embracing the challenges of academic freedom and the effective governance of an academic community Course Correction raises three important questions about the twenty first century university In discussing the dominant attention to student experience the book asks Is it now all about students Secondly in questioning What knowledge should undergraduates gain it provides a critique of undergraduate experience advocating a Socratic approach to education as interrogative conversation Finally by asking What and where are well placed universities the book makes the case against placeless education offered in the digital world in favour of education that takes account of its place in time and space

Incentives for Innovation in China Xuedong Ding, Jun Li, 2015-02-11 In the past three decades China has successfully transformed itself from an extremely poor economy to the world s second largest economy The country s phenomenal economic growth has been sustained primarily by its rapid and continuous industrialization Currently industry accounts for nearly two fifths of China s gross domestic product and since 2009 China has been the world s largest exporter of manufactured products This book explores the question of how far this industrial growth has been the product of government policies It discusses how government policies and their priorities have developed and evolved examines how industrial policies are linked to policies in other areas such as trade technology and regional development and assesses how new policy initiatives are encouraging China s increasing success in new technology intensive industries It also demonstrates how China s industrial policies are linked to development of industrial clusters and regions

Light Up the Night Travis Lupick, 2022-01-04 A revelatory moving narrative that offers a harrowing critique of the war on drugs from voices seldom heard in the conversation drug users who are working on the front lines to reduce overdose deaths Media coverage has established a clear narrative of the overdose crisis In the 1990s pharmaceutical corporations flooded America with powerful narcotics while lying about their risk many patients developed addictions to prescription opioids then as access was restricted waves of people turned to the streets and began using heroin and later the dangerous synthetic opioid fentanyl But that s not the whole story It fails to acknowledge how the war on drugs has exacerbated the crisis and leaves out one crucial voice that of drug users themselves Across the country people who use drugs are organizing in response to a record number of overdose deaths They are banding together to save lives and demanding equal rights Set against the backdrop of the overdose crisis Light Up the Night provides an intimate look at how users navigate the policies that criminalize them It chronicles a rising movement that s fighting to save lives end stigma and inspire commonsense policy reform Told through embedded reporting focused on two activists Jess Tilley in Massachusetts and Louise Vincent in North Carolina this is the story of the courageous people stepping in where government has failed They are standing on the front lines of an underground effort to help people with addictions use drugs safely reduce harms and live with dignity

Hearing Voices Brendan Kelly, 2016-11-07 Hearing Voices The History of Psychiatry in Ireland is a monumental work by one of Ireland's leading psychiatrists encompassing every psychiatric development from the Middle Ages to the present day and examining the far reaching social and political effects of Ireland's troubled relationship with mental illness From the Glen of Lunatics said to cure the mentally ill to the overcrowded asylums of later centuries with more beds for the mentally ill than any other country in the world Ireland has a complex unsettled history in the practice of psychiatry Kelly's definitive work examines Ireland's unique relationship with conceptions of mental ill health throughout the centuries delving into each medical breakthrough and every misuse of authority both political and domestic for those deemed to be mentally ill Through fascinating archival records Kelly writes a crisp and accessible history evaluating everything from individual case histories to the seismic effects of the First World War and exploring the attitudes that guided treatments spanning Brehon Law to the emerging emphasis on human rights Hearing Voices is a marvel that affords incredible insight into Ireland's social and medical history while providing powerful observations on our current treatment of mental ill health in Ireland

Proceedings of the 1st UPY International Conference on Education and Social Science (UPINCESS 2022) Ari Kusuma Wardana, 2023-02-10 This is an open access book It has been two years since the COVID 19 pandemic swept across the world This has more or less left a mark of memories and trauma for more or fewer people This pandemic reminds people around the world that there are things that can happen without people knowing it. People start to worry and pessimistically see the uncertainty that lies in the future. To deal with this, a strategy is needed through educational innovation and social science to answer and face the challenges of uncertainty in the future. Breakthroughs in education and social science are the most strategic ways to build and enhance human capacity to solve environmental and social problems. The spirit of innovation, rising from an economic downturn, the use of technology is obtained through the role of educational institutions. This can be interpreted that innovation in education and social science produces superior humans who have good behavior and wise humans. So that in the face of uncertainty in the post pandemic period, humans have strategies and become more prepared. To find out more about strategies for dealing with and responding to future uncertainties after the pandemic through educational innovations and social science, it is necessary to conduct research or studies that discuss these matters and be published widely. To support this, Universitas PGRI Yogyakarta held an international conference and Call for Papers. The 1st UPY International Conference on Education and Social Science (UPINCESS) Strategies to Deal with Uncertainty through Education and Social Science Innovation on June 15, 2022.
