Journal Impact Factor 2list:

Beyond Power Transitions David C. Kang,Xinru Ma,2024-10-08 Questions about the likelihood of conflict between the United States and China have dominated international policy discussion for years But the leading theory of power transitions between a declining hegemon and a rising rival is based exclusively on European examples such as the Peloponnesian War as chronicled by Thucydides as well as the rise of Germany under Bismarck and the Anglo German rivalry of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries What lessons does East Asian history offer for both the power transitions debate and the future of U S China relations Examining the rise and fall of East Asian powers over 1 500 years Beyond Power Transitions offers a new perspective on the forces that shape war and peace Xinru Ma and David C Kang argue that focusing on the East Asian experience underscores domestic risks and constraints on great powers not relative rise and decline in international competition They find that almost every regime transition before the twentieth century was instigated by internal challenges and even the exceptions deviated markedly from the predictions of power transition theory Instead East Asia was stable for a remarkably long time despite massive power differences because of common understandings about countries relative status Provocative and incisive this book challenges prevailing assumptions about the universality of power transition theory and shows why East Asian history has profound implications for international affairs today Nutrition Research: Concepts and Applications

Green Intelligence Larisa Ivascu, Marius Pislaru, Muddassar Sarfraz, 2025-12-23. This book investigates how digital technologies, intelligent systems and data analytics are reshaping environmental accountability and green practices. It delves into strategies for integrating sustainability into digital economies, highlighting realworld applications, case studies and policy implications. Readers will gain insights into the role of digital innovation in driving low carbon transitions, fostering ecoefficiency and enabling climate resilient growth. Bridging theory and practice, this volume serves as a valuable guide for academics, professionals and decision makers committed to a greener, smarter future. This volume is an important support for professionals, researchers, teachers, students, PhD students and society.

Creating Environmental and Occupational Health Derek R. Smith, 2011-06-27. Occupational hazards have plagued human civilisation since time immemorial and much of the progress in making workplaces safer is reflected by and recorded in the academic periodicals of environmental and occupational health. As a result, careful examination of these journals provides an interesting record of the field itself as well as documenting the concerns and issues deemed important by editorial boards and contributors over time. Derek Smith has established himself as a pioneer in analyzing the literature of environmental and occupational health. Thanks to his fine work, we may use this resource to understand both the history of EOH for its own sake and the dynamics of publishing in one medium sized but largely self contained scientific field.

Tee L Guidotti New Territories in Health Isabelle Pailliat, 2020-02-19. The third volume in the Health Information set, New Territories in Health focuses on the multifaceted spheres of influence or territories in the field of health. This book includes nine contributions based on the analysis of stakeholder logics that approach the relationships between health and territories. The authors, all specialists, offer original insights enhanced by in depth studies on the multiple forms that this territorialization takes: political and institutional, professional and organizational, public and media.
