Empire of Infields John J. Harney, 2019-07-01 When the Empire of Japan defeated the Chinese Qing Dynasty in 1895 and won its first colony Taiwan it worked to establish it as a model colony The Japanese brought Taiwan not only education and economic reform but also a new pastime made popular in Japan by American influence baseball But unlike in many other models the introduction of baseball to Taiwan didn't lead to imperial indoctrination or nationalist resistance Taiwan instead stands as a fascinating counterexample to an otherwise seemingly established norm in the cultural politics of modern imperialism Taiwan's baseball culture evolved as a cultural hybrid between American Japanese and later Chinese influences In Empire of Infields John J Harney traces the evolution and identity of Taiwanese baseball focusing on three teams the Nenggao team of 1924-25 the Kan team of 1931 and the Hongye schoolboy team of 1968 Baseball developed as an aspect of Japanese cultural practices that survived the end of Japanese rule at the end of World War II and was a central element of Japanese influence in the formation of popular culture across East Asia The Republic of China which reclaimed Taiwan in 1945 only embraced baseball in 1968 as an expression of a distinct Chinese nationalism and as a vehicle for political narratives Empire of Infields explores not only the development of Taiwanese baseball but also the influence of baseball on Taiwan's cultural identity in its colonial years and beyond as a clear departure from narratives of assimilation and resistance

Congressional Record, The Youth Sports Crisis Steven J. Overman, 2014-10-14 This provocative critique of the youth sports movement examines the various issues surrounding children in sports and provides a plan for reform based on a change in philosophy and practice Many American children spend more than 20 hours a week in organized sports forgoing free time and unstructured recreational activities for the rigors of training and competition This book offers a comprehensive critique of the youth sports movement pitting the reality of adult run sports programs against the needs and interests of children It examines whether the tradeoff of normal play time for structured sports activities teaches discipline and leads to stronger character development or if the pressures of the game the physical strain of practicing and the general overscheduling of children's lives have eroded the benefits associated with playing sports Educator and former coach Steven J Overman contends that youth based sports programs require a radical change for the well being of the young participants

The book explores the various problems in organized sports including stress on the family physical health hazards violence emotional duress elitism and hyper competitiveness Incorporating the perspectives of coaches athletes parents physicians and social scientists the narrative scrutinizes the role of adults as promoters and coaches and concludes with a discussion of current and needed reforms

A Guidebook to South Carolina Historical Markers, 2021-02-19 The South Carolina Historical Marker Program established in 1936 has approved the installation of more than 1 700 interpretive plaques each highlighting how places both grand and unassuming have played important roles in the history of the Palmetto State These roadside markers identify and interpret places valuable for understanding South Carolina s past including sites of consequential events and buildings structures or other resources significant for their design or their association with institutions or individuals prominent in local state or national history This volume includes a concise history of the South Carolina Historical Marker Program and an overview of the marker application process For those interested in specific historic periods or themes the volume features condensed lists of markers associated with broader topics such as the American Revolution African American history women s history the Civil War and Reconstruction While the program is administered by the South Carolina Department of Archives and History most markers are proposed by local organizations that serve as a marker s official sponsor paying its cost and assuming responsibility for its upkeep In that sense this inventory is a record not just of places and subjects that the state has deemed worthy of acknowledgment but of those that South Carolinians themselves have worked to enshrine
