

Federal unemployment programs are ending September 4, 2021.

We know these programs can be complicated, and you might be wondering what these expirations mean for you. Take a look at our guide to understand what's changing:

FPUC Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation The $300 supplement
Who was this program for? Anybody receiving any kind of unemployment insurance benefits.	What did this program do? FPUC automatically added $300 on top of every claimant's weekly benefits.
How do I know if this applies to me? If you are currently receiving any kind of unemployment insurance, you automatically receive the $300 FPUC supplement each week.	What's changing on September 4th? The $300 FPUC supplement is expiring. If you are still eligible for benefits, you'll receive your normal weekly benefit rate only.
What should I do if this applies to me? <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Even though the $300 supplement is ending, you will still receive your normal weekly benefit rate if you remain otherwise eligible and continue to certify.• If you need additional support, visit ides.illinois.gov/moreassistance to learn about food, housing, health insurance, and other services.• Remember: IDES can help you find your next career. Visit IllinoisJobLink.com today to search 100,000+ jobs. If you've applied for unemployment benefits, you already have an IllinoisJobLink.com account!

PUA Pandemic Unemployment Assistance The program for workers who are normally ineligible for UI
Who was this program for? PUA was made for workers who normally can't qualify for unemployment insurance but are unemployed due to the pandemic. For example, PUA covered self-employed people such as gig workers or independent contractors.	What did this program do? PUA provided benefits for workers who typically couldn't receive them.
How do I know if this applies to me? There are a few ways to find out if you're receiving PUA benefits as opposed to regular unemployment benefits. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The correspondence you receive from IDES states you are on the PUA program• You certify on a weekly basis, instead of a biweekly basis• You use the PUA portal to manage your claim	What's changing on September 4th? PUA is expiring. After the week ending September 4 th , you will be unable to certify for new weeks under PUA. Even if your PUA account shows you have weeks remaining after September 4 th , Congress has determined that this program is ending as of that date, so any extra weeks that may show on your account will not be available after September 4 th .
What should I do if this applies to me? <ul style="list-style-type: none">• IDES can help you find your next career. Visit IllinoisJobLink.com today to search 100,000+ jobs.• If you need additional support, visit ides.illinois.gov/moreassistance to learn about food, housing, health insurance, and other services.

Guides To Unemployment Benefits And Programs:

Adopting the Melody of Appearance: An Emotional Symphony within Guides To Unemployment Benefits And Programs

In a global taken by screens and the ceaseless chatter of instant interaction, the melodic splendor and mental symphony produced by the published word often disappear into the background, eclipsed by the relentless sound and interruptions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, set within the pages of Guides To Unemployment Benefits And Programs a wonderful fictional prize overflowing with fresh feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by an elegant composer of language, that interesting masterpiece conducts readers on a mental journey, well unraveling the concealed melodies and profound influence resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths of this emotional review, we shall investigate the book's main harmonies, analyze its enthralling publishing style, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers' souls.
