Htp Test Manual:

The House-tree-person (H-T-P) Manual Supplement: Administration and Interpretation of the H-T-P Test,1971 The House-Tree-Person Technique Revised Manual John N Buck,2019-08-06 House Tree Person is a projective personality test wherein a person responds to a given stimuli and the responses give clues about the person's hidden emotions or internal conflicts. The individual taking the test is asked to draw primary objects like a house, tree, and a person, that's why the name. These drawings render a measure of self-perceptions and attitudes inherent in a personality. The HTP test is adhered to along with other techniques in cases where there is likelihood of brain damage, other neurological disorders, or to evaluate brain damage in patients of schizophrenia. It can be taken in any language by anyone who is 3 years old or above. The test consumes around 150 minutes. The person taking the test is first asked to draw and then is later questioned based on his/her illustration. Usually, the first phase of drawing is colored using crayons, and then pencil is used for the next phase. The instructions given to the test taker are quite short and simple. Draw me as good a house as you can, states it well. Once the picture of a house is completed, the test taker is asked to draw a tree and later a person. If we are told to draw some object, we might either shy away for not being good at it, or we might enjoy the process itself regardless of our artistic abilities. Whichever way, drawing gives us a sense of revisiting our childhood memories full of such fun activities. Similar to writing, the act of drawing forms a powerful medium for us to let our emotions out. As we know, and some of us might even have experienced, that forms of fine art, including drawing, are seen to be stress-releasing activities. Off the mind and onto the paper. This is the knack behind a psychological personality test like the House Tree Person test. It is like reading our minds from what we have scribbled or sketched on a sheet of paper. This test is a technique developed by John N Buck, an early clinical psychologist in 1948, which was later updated in 1969. This and such other contributions from him are remarkable.

Handbook of Personality Assessment Irving B. Weiner, Roger L. Greene, 2011-01-31 This comprehensive, balanced guide to personality assessment, written by two of the foremost experts in the field, is sure to become the gold standard of texts on this topic. The Handbook of Personality Assessment covers everything from the basics, including a historic overview and detailed discussion of the assessment process and its psychometric foundations, to valuable sections on conducting the assessment interview and the nature, interpretation, and applications of the most popular self-report, objective, and performance-based projective measures. A concluding section of special topics, such as computerized assessment, ethical and legal issues, and report writing, are unique to this text. Handbook of Psychological Testing Paul Kline, 2013-11-12 Since publication in its first edition, the Handbook of Psychological Testing has become the standard text for organisational and educational psychologists. It offers the only comprehensive, modern, and clear account of the whole of the field of psychometrics. It covers psychometric theory, the different kinds of psychological test, applied psychological testing, and the evaluation of the best published psychological tests. It is outstanding for its detailed and complete coverage of the field, its clarity even for the non mathematical and its emphasis on the practical application of psychometric theory in psychology and education as well as in vocational occupational and clinical fields For this second edition the Handbook has been extensively revised and updated to include the latest research and thinking in the field Unlike other work in this area it challenges the scientific rigour of conventional psychometrics and identifies groundbreaking new ways forward

Kinetic-house-tree-person Drawings (K-H-T-P) Robert C. Burns,1987 This book contains the first documentation of combining house tree and person into a single drawing It helps enrich clinician s test batteries and aids psychologists and physicians in understanding the emotions and self awareness of their clients It is richly illustrated and teaches the important skill of using visual metaphors in clinical settings to understand and assist clients The author covers all aspects of drawing interpretation including size placement stroke or line characteristics and the possible individual characteristics of each element within the house tree and person drawings

A Handbook of Test Construction (Psychology Revivals) Paul Kline,2015-06-03 Psychological tests provide reliable and objective standards by which individuals can be evaluated in education and employment Therefore accurate judgements must depend on the reliability and quality of the tests themselves Originally published in 1986 this handbook by an internationally acknowledged expert provided an introductory and comprehensive treatment of the business of constructing good tests Paul Kline shows how to construct a test and then to check that it is working well Covering most kinds of tests including computer presented tests of the time Rasch scaling and tailored testing this title offers a clear introduction to this complex field a glossary of specialist terms an explanation of the objective of reliability step by step guidance through the statistical procedures a description of the techniques used in constructing and standardizing tests guidelines with examples for writing the test items computer programs for many of the techniques Although the computer testing will inevitably have moved on students on courses in occupational educational and clinical psychology as well as in psychological testing itself would still find this a valuable source of information guidance and clear explanation
