The Budget of the United States Government United States. Office of Management and Budget,2015 "Code of Massachusetts regulations, 2013" ,2013 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf Code of Massachusetts Regulations held by the Social Law Library of Massachusetts as of January 2020 Strong, Beautiful and Modern Charlotte Macdonald,2013 In the late 1930s and early 1940s a wave of state sponsorednational fitness programs swept Britain and its formersettler colonies laying the foundations for the twentiethcentury s obsession with fitness In Strong Beautiful andModern Charlotte Macdonald shows how governments encouragedcitizens to be healthier and more active and thereby reinforced thecultural ties of the Empire Alongside these state sponsored effortswas a growing emphasis from business the medical establishment andpopular culture on the importance of having a betterbody At a time when government concern over public healthissues such as obesity is once again on the rise Macdonald offersvaluable lessons as to why the first national fitness drive wasultimately a failure Drawing on extensive research Strong Beautiful and Modern is a lively investigation into the way peopleand their governments think about health and well being and howhistorical views have shaped our modern life

Budget of the United States Government United States. Office of Management and Budget,2014 Colour and Light in the Ocean Victor Martinez-Vicente,Astrid Bracher,Didier Ramon,Shubha Sathyendranath,Tiit Kutser,2020-03-26 CLEO publications in Frontiers in Marine Science Foreword Josef Aschbacher Director of ESA s Earth Observation Programmes Satellite data have drastically changed the view we have of the oceans Covering about 70% of Earth s surface oceans play a unique role for our planet and for our life but large areas remain unexplored and are difficult to reach Since the 1980s Earth orbiting satellites have helped to observe what is happening at the ocean surface Sensors like CZCS AVHRR SeaWifs and MODIS provided the first ocean colour data from space Starting in 2002 ESA s Medium Resolution Imaging Spectrometer MERIS on board the environmental satellite Envisat provided detailed information on phytoplankton biomass and concentrations of other matter in the global oceans These satellite observations laid the groundwork for studying the marine environment and how it responds to climate change and the research community has since delivered information on the variability of marine ecosystems Part of this work is reflected in this stunning collection of peer reviewed publications presented at the workshop Colour and Light in the Ocean from Earth Observation CLEO held at ESA s ESRIN site in Frascati Italy on 6 8 September 2016 The event attracted more than 160 participants from all over the world including remote sensing experts marine ecosystem modelers in situ observers and users of Earth observation data Scientifically the meeting covered applications in climate studies over primary productivity and ocean dynamics to pools of carbon and phytoplankton diversity at global and regional scales It also demonstrated the potential of Earth observation and its contribution to modern oceanography Looking to the future new satellites developed by ESA under the coordination of the European Commission will further our scientific and operational observations of the seas With Sentinel 3A in orbit and its twin Sentinel 3B following in 2017 there is a new category of data available for operational oceanographic applications and climate studies for years to come These data are free and easy to access by anyone interested Looking at the role of oceans in our daily lives I am sure that this collection of scientific excellence will be valued by scientists of today and will inspire the next generation to carry these ideas into the future

By Strength, We Are Still Here Crystal Gail Fraser, 2024-12-13 The first comprehensive study of Indian residential schools in the North In this ground breaking book Crystal Gail Fraser draws on Dinjii Zhuh Gwich in concepts of individual and collective strength to illuminate student experiences in northern residential schools revealing the many ways Indigenous communities resisted the institutionalization of their children After 1945 federal bureaucrats and politicians increasingly sought to assimilate Indigenous northerners who had remained comparatively outside of their control into broader Canadian society through policies that were designed to destroy Indigenous ways of life Foremost among these was an aggressive new schooling policy that mandated the construction of Grollier and Stringer Halls massive residential schools that opened in Inuvik in 1959 eleven years after a special joint committee of the House of Commons and the Senate recommended that all residential schools in Canada be closed By Strength We Are Still Here shares the lived experiences of Indigenous northerners from 1959 until 1982 when the territorial government published a comprehensive plan for educational reform Led by Survivor testimony Fraser shows the roles both students and their families played in disrupting state agendas including questioning and changing the system to protect their cultures and communities Centring the expertise of Knowledge Keepers By Strength We Are Still Here makes a crucial contribution to Indigenous research methodologies and to understandings of Canadian and Indigenous histories during the second half of the twentieth century

The Routledge Handbook on Crime and International Migration Sharon Pickering, Julie Ham, 2017-07-14 The Routledge Handbook on Crime and International Migration is concerned with the various relationships between migration crime and victimization that have informed a wide criminological scholarship often driven by some of the original lines of inquiry of the Chicago School Historically migration and crime came to be the device by which Criminology and cognate fields sought to tackle issues of race and ethnicity often in highly problematic ways However in the contemporary period this body of scholarship is inspiring scholars to produce significant evidence that speaks to some of the biggest public policy questions and debunks many dominant mythologies around the criminality of migrants The Routledge Handbook on Crime and International Migration is also concerned with the theoretical empirical and policy knots found in the relationship between regular and irregular migration offending and victimization the processes and impact of criminalization and the changing role of criminal justice systems in the regulation and enforcement of international mobility and borders The Handbook is focused on the migratory fault lines between the Global North and Global South which have produced new or accelerated sites of state control constructed irregular migration as a crime and security problem and mobilized ideological and coercive powers usually reserved for criminal or military threats Offering a strong international focus and comprehensive coverage of a wide range of border criminal justice and migration related issues this book is an important contribution to criminology and migration studies and will be essential reading for academics students and practitioners interested in this field Advances in Human Factors and Systems Interaction Isabel L. Nunes,2019-06-04 This book reports on cutting edge research into innovative system interfaces highlighting both lifecycle development and human technology interaction especially in virtual augmented and mixed reality systems It describes advanced methodologies and tools for evaluating and improving interface usability and discusses new models as well as case studies and good practices The book addresses the human hardware and software factors in the process of developing interfaces for optimizing total system performance while minimizing their costs It also highlights the forces currently shaping the nature of computing and systems such as the importance of portability and technologies for reducing power requirements the necessity of a better assimilation of computation in the environment as well as solutions to promote accessibility to computers and systems for people with special needs The book which is based on the AHFE 2019 International Conference on Human Factors and Systems Interaction held on July 24 28 2019 in Washington D C USA offers a timely survey and practice oriented guide for systems interface users and developers alike
