Marsden,2014-07-15 Shakespeare s plays were not always the inviolable texts they are almost universally considered to be today The Restoration and eighteenth century committed what many critics view as one of the most subversive acts in literary history the rewriting and restructuring of Shakespeare s plays Many of us are familiar with Nahum Tate s audacious adaptation of King Lear with its resoundingly happy ending but Tate was only one of a score of playwrights who adapted Shakespeare s plays Between 1660 and 1777 more than fifty adaptations appeared in print and on the stage works in which playwrights augmented substantially cut or completely rewrote the original plays The plays were staged with new characters new scenes new endings and underlying all this novelty new words Why did this happen And why in the later eighteenth century did it stop These questions have serious implications regarding both the aesthetics of the literary text and its treatment for the adaptations manifest the period's perceptions of Shakespeare As such they demonstrate an important evolution in the definition of poetic language and in the idea of what constitutes a literary work In The Re Imagined Text Jean I Marsden examines both the adaptations and the network of literary theory that surrounds them thereby exploring the problems of textual sanctity and of the author's relationship to the text As she demonstrates Shakespeare's works and English literature in general came to be defined by their words rather than by the plots and morality on which the older aesthetic theory focused a clear step toward our modern concern for the word and its varying levels of signification

Teaching Contemporary English Literature Hans Osterwalder, 2017-08-14 This book provides a theoretical introduction to the task based methodology in language and literature teaching For teachers the main points of interest are Part Two and Three where a plethora of contemporary texts both from Britain and the US are given a literary analysis which is followed by detailed task based lesson plans Part Two focuses on multiculturalism one of the seminal issues of our time Part Three tackles gender another highly topical theme which students are naturally interested in Well known authors like the British Asian writer Hanif Kureish and the Indian American novelist Jhumpa Lahiri feature in the chapter on multiculturalism the gender question is represented by Carol Ann Duffy the current Poet Laureate and Caryl Churchill the main representative of feminist drama
