

The background of the cover is a dark, almost black, space. It is populated with various microscopic organisms. Numerous blue, thread-like structures, resembling fungal hyphae or bacterial flagella, are scattered across the frame. Interspersed among these are many small, yellowish, oval-shaped objects, likely representing bacteria or spores. In the center, there is a larger, more complex structure made of blue threads, possibly a biofilm or a cluster of cells. At the bottom left, there is a solid red circle. The overall aesthetic is scientific and high-tech.
