Houghten Mifflin Text Dependent Questions:

Text-Dependent Questions, Grades 6-12 Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, Heather Anderson, Marisol Thayre, 2014-09-02 Fisher Frey's answer to close and critical reading. Learn the best ways to use text dependent questions as scaffolds during close reading and the big understandings they yield. But that's just for starters. Fisher and Frey also include illustrative video texts and questions, cross-curricular examples, and an online facilitator's guide making the two volumes of TDQ a potent professional development tool across all of K-12. The genius of TDQ is the way Fisher and Frey break down the process into four cognitive pathways: What does the text say? How does the text work? What does the text mean? What does the text inspire you to do?

Teaching With Text-Based Questions Kevin Thomas Smith, 2014-03-14 Help your students navigate complex texts in history, social studies, and English language arts. This book shows you how to use a key tool: text-based questions to build students' literacy and critical thinking skills and meet the Common Core State Standards. You'll learn how to ask text-based questions about different types of nonfiction and visual texts, including primary and secondary sources, maps, charts, and paintings. You'll also get ideas for teaching students to examine point of view, write analytical responses, compare texts, cite textual evidence, and pose their own high-level questions. The book is filled with examples that you can use immediately or modify as needed. Each chapter ends with a reflection section to help you adapt the ideas to your own classroom.

What's Inside: Helpful information on teaching different types of nonfiction texts, including literary nonfiction, informational texts, primary and secondary sources, and visual texts. Ideas for locating primary sources. Questions students should ask about every text. Techniques for soliciting higher-order questions from students. Ways to get students to think critically about the relationships between texts. Strategies to help students integrate information from different types of sources, a skill that will help students respond to performance tasks on the PARCC and SBAC assessments and DBQs on AP exams. Tips for teaching students to write good responses to text-based questions, including how to cite sources and incorporate point of view. Ideas for using rubrics and peer grading to evaluate students' responses. Connections to the informational reading standards of the Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts for grades 3-12 and of the Common Core State Standards for Literacy in History, Social Studies, Science, and Technical Subjects.

Teaching Literacy in the Visible Learning Classroom, Grades 6-12 Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, John Hattie, Marisol Thayre, 2017-04-12 It could happen at 10:10 a.m. in the midst of analyzing a text, at 2:00 when listening to a student's debate, or even after class when planning a lesson. The question arises: How do I influence student learning? What's going to generate that light bulb Aha moment of understanding? In this sequel to their megawatt best seller Visible Learning for Literacy, Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, and John Hattie help you answer that question by sharing structures and tools that have high impact on learning and insights on which stage of learning they have that high impact. With their expert lessons, video clips, and online resources, you can design reading and writing experiences that foster in your students deeper and more sophisticated expressions of literacy. Mobilizing Visible Learning. Use lesson

Four Powerful Strategies for Struggling Readers, Grades 3-8 Lois A. Lanning,2008-07-17 Lanning reduces the long list of skills and strategies found in curriculum documents into four key comprehension strategies setting out a very workable plan for enhancing reading comprehension Richard Allington Professor of Education University of Tennessee These four powerful strategies come to the rescue with detailed and engaging lessons and examples for guided reading instruction The clarity and insight make this book a must read for elementary and middle school reading specialists and classroom teachers H Lynn Erickson Educational Consultant Author Concept Based Curriculum and Instruction Focused techniques to help struggling readers strengthen comprehension skills Children who struggle with reading by the time they reach third grade risk falling further behind as they progress through school This important resource presents four targeted research based comprehension strategies to help struggling readers in small group settings understand what they read Four Powerful

Strategies for Struggling Readers Grades 3-8 shows teachers how to support students reading comprehension by teaching the strategies that highly effective readers use: summarizing, creating meaningful connections, self-regulating, and inferring. The author examines how, why, and when to use each strategy and what each strategy looks like in practice. The book also covers a gradual release approach that begins with teacher-directed instruction and leads to student-directed learning as skills increase. Specific teaching techniques to use with each strategy. Detailed lesson examples for reading instruction and content area reading. Reflections in each strategy chapter. The underlying principles in the book make these powerful strategies relevant for all elementary teachers, literacy coaches, and instructional leaders working to help students learn to read for deep understanding.

The Psychology of Science Text Comprehension José Otero, José A. León, Arthur C. Graesser, 2014-04-04. This volume's goal is to provide readers with up-to-date information on the research and theory of scientific text comprehension. It is widely acknowledged that the comprehension of science and technological artifacts is very difficult for both children and adults. The material is conceptually complex; there is very little background knowledge for most individuals, and the materials are often poorly written. Therefore, it is no surprise that students are turned off from learning science and technology. Given these challenges, it is important to design scientific text in a fashion that fits the cognitive constraints of the learner. The enterprise of textbook design needs to be effectively integrated with research in discourse processing, educational technology, and cognitive science. This book takes a major step in promoting such an integration. This volume provides an important integration of research and theory with theoretical, methodological, and educational applications. Includes a number of chapters that cover how science text information affects mental representations and strategies. Introduces important suggestions about how text design and new technologies can be thought of as pedagogical features and establishes academic text taxonomies and a consensus of the criteria to organize inferences and other mental mechanisms.
