Bioethics Advisory Commission, 1999 Methods for the Ethnography of Communication Judith Kaplan-Weinger, Char Ullman, 2014-12-22 Methods for the Ethnography of Communication is a guide to conducting ethnographic research in classroom and community settings that introduces students to the field of ethnography of communication and takes them through the recursive and nonlinear cycle of ethnographic research Drawing on the mnemonic that Hymes used to develop the Ethnography of SPEAKING the authors introduce the innovative CULTURES framework to provide a helpful structure for moving through the complex process of collecting and analyzing ethnographic data and addresses the larger how to questions that students struggle with when undertaking ethnographic research Exercises and activities help students make the connection between communicative events acts and situations and ways of studying them ethnographically Integrating a primary focus on language in use within an ethnographic framework makes this book an invaluable core text for courses on ethnography of communication and related areas in a variety of disciplines Doing Social Justice Education D. Scott Tharp, 2023-07-03 This book is principally written for entry level student affairs and non profit staff who develop and facilitate social justice education workshops and structured conversations as well as for student peer educators who are often employed to assist in the facilitation of such workshops for their peers It is suitable for anyone starting out to do such work It provides readers with a practical framework and hands on tools to craft effective and positive interventions and workshops that are relevant to context and are true to the facilitator's own circumstances It offers a succinct but comprehensive introduction to the planning design and facilitation of social justice experiences grounding readers in relevant theory taking into account participants prior understandings of issues of race and privilege institutional environment and campus climate and the facilitator's positionality It provides guidance on defining outcomes and developing content and exercises to achieve workshop goals Starting from the premise that the facilitation and delivery of social justice education experiences should be grounded in scholarship and that such experiences can only achieve their ends if crafted to meet the unique characteristics and circumstances of the institution and workshop participants the authors begin by synthesizing current theory on social justice education and cultural competence and then guiding readers on analyzing the context and purpose of their workshop They provide readers with an easy to follow five part framework to systematically design social justice education workshops and structured conversations and to assess the resulting learning Particularly valuable for those starting out in this work is guidance on facilitation and on the use and selection of exercises to align with goals and participants characteristics and social identities Arab American Children with Disabilities Jamal M. Al Khatib, 2016-07-22 Despite a proliferation of special education literature on racial minorities over the past three decades research and writing on Arab American children with disabilities remain remarkably sparse This book fills that gap by promoting culturally appropriate services for Arab American children with disabilities Special education and service providers in the U S including school psychologists rehabilitation counselors and social workers are increasingly likely to work with Arab Americans with disabilities By focusing on this marginalized minority population Al Khatib provides much needed context and direction for service providers and researchers working with the Arab American community Offering an overview of special education and the rights guaranteed under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act IDEA this book also helps Arab American families understand the special education process and advocate for their children
