The Distant Mirror Joanne Brown, Nancy St. Clair, 2005-12-08 Young adult historical fiction brings the past alive through stories of adventure suspense and mystery The genre is both complex and controversial encompassing novels that range from romance and fantasy to stark historical realism The book examines the various approaches to young adult historical fiction and explores the issues that it has engendered Part One focuses on the broader issues spawned by the genre itself including its various subgenres the line between fiction and fact to what degree must an author adhere to historical accuracy time boundaries the diary format the protagonist as the outsider who is entitled to write what and literary concerns such as the relationship between accuracy and readability Part Two explores issues of contemporary interest such as race class gender the immigrant experience religion war and nationalism Thought provoking discussions of how these elements are treated in historical novels with emphasis on how current cultural values have shaped the fiction are presented Finally the question of whether novels in this genre are bound by anything other than their respective period setting is posed and it is contended that there are features common to YA historical novels that not only set the genre apart from other YA fiction but also contribute something unique to the larger genre The genesis for much classroom debate suggestions for class discussions and writing assignments as well as sample written responses of these debates from the authors classes are included Teachers librarians instructors of young adult literature courses and teen readers will find this an insightful analysis of YA historical fiction complex cultural matters as the role of the press class gender and geography in the determination of guilt and innocence Emmett Till and the Mississippi Press provides a careful examination of the courtroom testimony given in Sumner Mississippi and the trial s conclusion as reported by the state s newspapers The book closes with an analysis of how Mississippi has attempted to come to terms with its racially troubled past by in part memorializing Emmett Till in and around the Delta

Manifesting Justice Valena Beety, 2022-05-31 Just as the Black Lives Matter movement and recent protests have shown the leadership of women of color in organizing against the prison state this book will show the leadership of women which is too often ignored in the innocence movement Aya Gruber Professor of Law University of Colorado Law School author of The Feminist War on Crime Through the lens of her work with the Innocence Movement and her client Leigh Stubbs a woman denied a fair trial in 2000 largely due to her sexual orientation innocence litigator activist and founder of the West Virginia Innocence Project Valena Beety examines the failures in America's criminal legal system and the reforms necessary to eliminate wrongful convictions particularly with regards to women the queer community and people of color 2023 Winner of the Eric Hoffer Book Award's Montaigne Medal When Valena Beety first became a federal prosecutor her goal was to protect victims especially women from cycles of violence What she discovered was that not only did prosecutions often fail to help victims they frequently relied on false information forensic fraud and police and prosecutor misconduct Seeking change Beety began working in the Innocence Movement helping to free factually innocent people through DNA testing and criminal justice reform Manifesting Justice focuses on the shocking story of Beety's client Leigh Stubbs a young queer woman in Mississippi convicted of a horrific crime she did not commit because of her sexual orientation Beety weaves Stubbs's harrowing narrative through the broader story of a broken criminal justice system where defendants including disproportionate numbers of women of color and queer individuals are convicted due to racism prejudice coerced confessions and false identifications Drawing on interviews with both innocence advocates and wrongfully convicted women along with Beety's own experiences as an expert litigator and a queer woman Manifesting Justice provides a unique outsider insider perspective Beety expands our notion of justice to include not just people who are factually innocent but those who are over charged pressured into bad plea deals and over sentenced The result is a riveting and timely book that not only advocates for reforming the conviction process it will transform our very ideas of crime and punishment what innocence is and who should be free With a Foreword by Koa Beck author of White Feminism
