This system is designed to capture the essential (200–2000 Hz) lower range of the voice spectrum. It captures the energy of any other sounds present. This multi-channel algorithm (the multi-band) was chosen to allow operators. They could choose to compress or not capture the full spectrum. The full spectrum has an audio input terminated by a short delay. When the signal in the multi-band algorithm is not in sufficient activity (less than five times the mean full spectrum activity), it truncates the multi-band signal starting during the multi-band compression in a short cut. Another short delay.

Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals.
