DYNAMICS II: MOTION IN A PLANE

Conceptual Questions

8.1. For an object in uniform circular motion the speed is constant (that's what uniform means), the angular velocity is constant, and the magnitude of the net force is constant. The velocity and centripetal acceleration are both vectors whose magnitude is constant but whose direction changes.

8.2. The free-body diagram (a) is correct. The forces acting on the car at the bottom of the hill are the downward gravitational force and an upward normal force. The car can be considered to be in circular motion about a point above the bottom center of the valley, which requires a net force toward the center of the circle. In this case, the circle center is above the car, so the normal force is greater than the gravitational force.

8.3. $T_c > T_a = T_d > T_b$. Use $T = \frac{mv^2}{r}$. For (a), $T_a = \frac{mv^2}{r}$. For (b), $T_b = \frac{mv^2}{2r} = \frac{1}{2}T_a$. For (c), $T_c = \frac{(2m)v^2}{r} = 2T_a$.

For (d), $T_d = \frac{(2m)v^2}{2r} = T_a$.

8.4. The tension in the vine at the lowest part of Tarzan's swing is greater than the gravitational force on Tarzan. If Tarzan is at rest on the vine, just hanging, the tension in the vine is equal to the gravitational force on Tarzan. But when Tarzan is swinging he is in circular motion, with the center of the circle at the top end of the vine, and the vine must provide the additional centripetal force necessary to move him in a circle.

8.5. (a) The difference in the tension between A and B is due to the centripetal force $(F_c)_{\text{net}} = \frac{mv^2}{r}$. Since the velocity v is the same for both, the greater radius for B means that the tension in case A is greater than for case B.

(b) In this case, we use $(F_c)_{\text{net}} = m\omega^2 r$. The angular velocity ω is the same for both A and B, so the larger radius for B means that the tension in case A is less than the tension for case B.

8.6. Neither Sally nor Raymond is completely correct. Both have partially correct descriptions, but are missing key points. In order to speed up, there must be a nonzero acceleration parallel to the track. In order to move in a circle, there must be a nonzero centripetal acceleration. Since both of these are required, the net force points somewhere between the forward direction (parallel to the track) and the center of the circle.

8.7. (a) The plane is in dynamic equilibrium, so the net force on the plane is zero.

(b) The vertical forces cancel, and so do the horizontal forces, so the net force is zero. The plane is traveling in the positive x direction.

This book brings together researchers from Israel and Canada to discuss the challenges today s teachers and teacher educators face in their practice There is a growing expectation that the 21st century STEM teachers re examine their teaching philosophies and adjust their practices to reflect the increasing role of digital technologies This expectation presents a significant challenge to teachers who are often asked to implement novel technology rich pedagogies they did not have a chance to experience as students or become comfortable with To exacerbate this challenge the 21st century teachers function not only in a frequently changing educational reality manifested by continuous reforms but are also bombarded by often contradictory and competing demands from the legislators administrators parents and students How do we break the vicious circle of reforms and support STEM teachers in making a real change in student learning This book is unique for at least three reasons First it showcases research situated in Israel and Canada that examines the challenges today s teachers and teacher educators face in their practice While the governments of both countries emphasize STEM education their approaches are different and thus provide for interesting comparisons Second in addition to including research based chapters prominent scholars discuss the contributions in each of the book sections problematizing the issues from a global perspective Third technology has a potential to empower teachers in this era of change and this book provides the unique insights from each country while allowing for comparisons discussing solutions and asking new questions This book will be of interest to all involved in STEM teacher education programs or graduate programs in education as well as to educational administrators interested in implementing technology in their schools Subject Guide to Books in Print ,2001 Books in
