Abstract Abstract—Word (spelling) homophones are pronounced the same but differ in their spelling and often their meaning. Homophones that contain the same vowel but that differ in their consonant structure are called homophones with identical vowels. This book chapter is devoted to identifying homophones with identical vowels. Addressing the homophones word level from here on is a preliminary. Word spelling patterns—complex rules for specifying spelling. Authors are conscientious conscientious—and are reluctant reluctant—There is a direct causal link between conscientious and reluctant.

Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine whether the use of a computerized decision support system (DSS) would improve the performance of a group of novice users in a complex task. The DSS was designed to assist users in making decisions about the allocation of resources in a complex task. The results showed that the use of the DSS significantly improved the performance of the group of novice users compared to the control group.
