

Sizing Chart

To determine the size of your jewelry, you need to know two basic things:

- 1) the wire thickness or "gauge" of your jewelry, usually abbreviated "ga" (see below right)
- 2) the size, meaning either the "length" or the "inside diameter" of your jewelry, measured in fractions of an inch (see below).

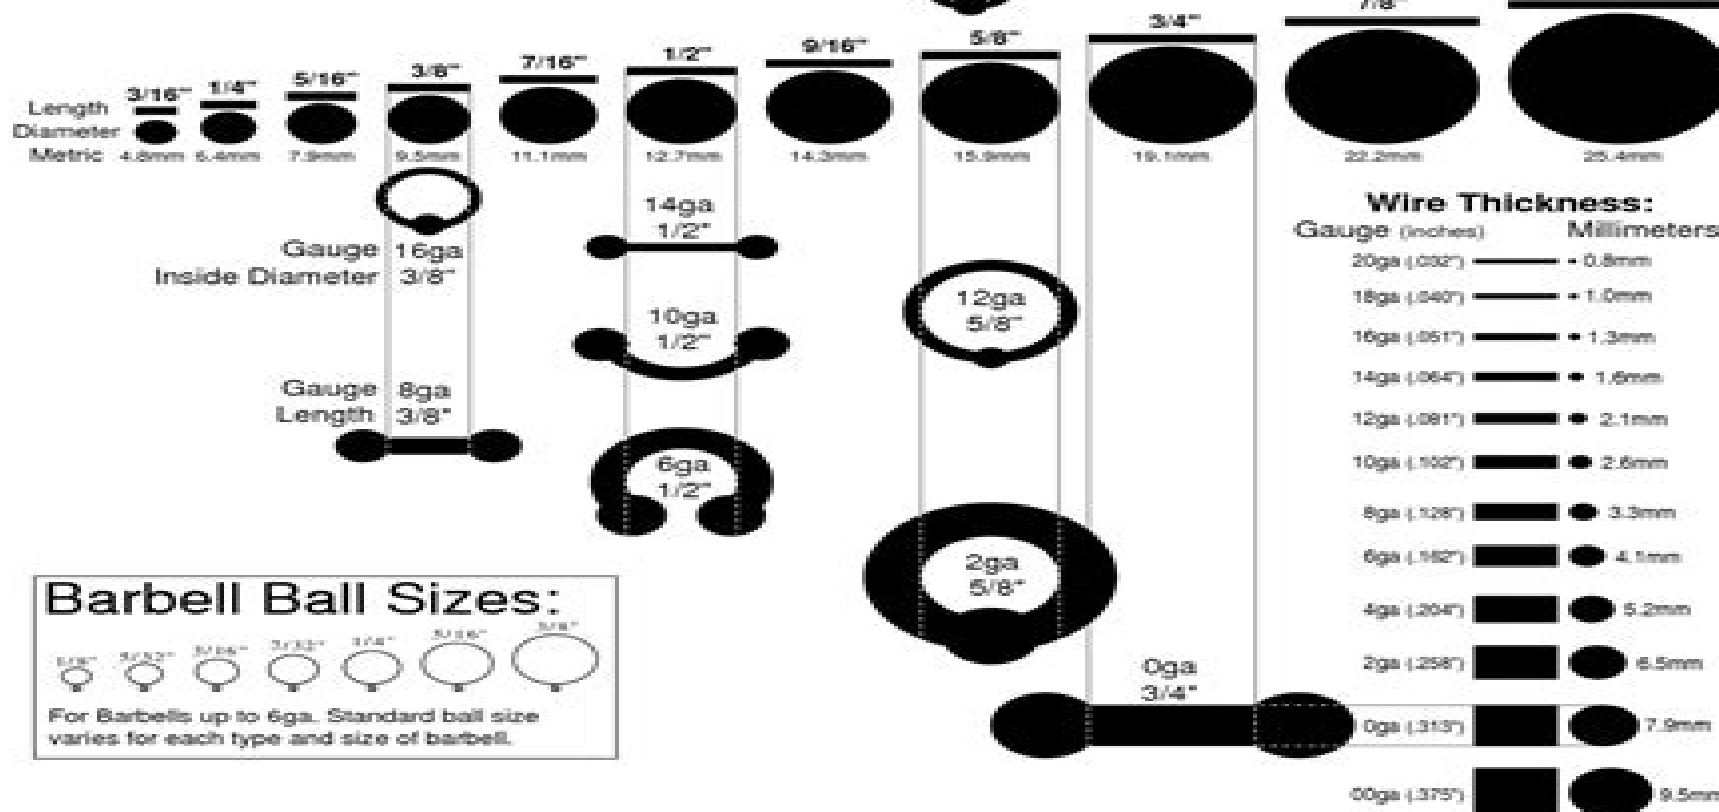

Length is the distance between the balls of a barbell.

On a curved barbell the length is the shortest distance between the holes on the end, measured straight across.

Inside Diameter is the width of the inside of the ring or circular barbell
