Education and the Global Rural Barbara Pini,Relebohile Moletsane,Martin Mills,2017-10-02 This edited collection challenges the urban centric nature of much feminist work on gender and education The context for the book is the radical reconfiguration of rural areas that has occurred in recent decades as a result of globalisation From a range of diverse national contexts including Kenya and South Africa Australia and Canada and the United States and Pakistan authors explore the intersections between masculinity femininity and rurality in education In recognition of the heterogeneity of categories such as rural girl and rural boy they attend to how educational exclusions can be magnified by differences in relation to social locations such as class race or sexuality Similar critical insights are brought to bear as authors examine what it means to be a male or female teacher in rural environments Contributors draw on data ranging from contemporary feature films to historical materials along with detailed ethnographic work and participatory approaches to produce a compelling narrative of the need to understand education as experienced by those who are not part of the urban majority This book was originally published as a special issue of Gender and Education Mental Health 3ed Nicholas Procter,Rhonda L. Spencer,Anastasia Valassopoulos,2020-10-19 Postcolonial Locations seeks to clarify the meaning of the postcolonial through close textual readings and prioritises material and located readings over more abstract theoretical discussions it seeks to re orient the field by providing practical explorations of what the discipline is for The book begins with an introduction of the key theoretical debates in the field between the universal and the particular the global and the local but it then goes on to demonstrate via a series of close textual readings that these distinctions are not always useful and that we can achieve a more comprehensive and complete reading of the multiple times places and texts in which colonial power is both exerted and fought An engaging and comprehensive guide to contemporary postcolonial studies this book is essential reading for students as well as professors HJEAS ,2006 Wildlife Research ,2004 The Surveyor & Municipal & County Engineer
