Culture, and the Scientific Imaginary in Latin America María del Pilar Blanco,Joanna Page,2023-03-28 Challenging the common view that Latin America has lagged behind Europe and North America in the global history of science this volume reveals that the region has long been a center for scientific innovation and imagination It highlights the important relationship between science politics and culture in Latin American history Boundaries, Territory and Postmodernity David Newman,2013-11-05 Contributions to this collection seek to determine the extent to which states and boundaries have in fact disappeared or are simply changing their functions as we move from an era of fixed territories into a post Westphalian territorial system A group of international political geographers and political scientists examine the changing nature of the state pointing to significant changes on the one hand but equally noting the continued importance of territory and boundaries in determining the political ordering of the post modern world Digital Humanities in Medieval and Early Modern Spanish Texts Roberto J. González Zalacain,Gael Vaamonde,2025-03-31 This volume fills a gap in the literature on digital humanities DH in the Hispanic context by gathering a heterogeneous group of specialists who from different standpoints in the humanities explore Spanish texts as the object of study DH as the work methodology and Medieval and Early Modern Times as the historical framework The volume gathers authors from Spain and other countries who work at the intersections of the DH and the areas of history philology literature or linguistics to explore some of the diverse DH projects working on Spanish texts from this period and their wider implications Taking historical sources as the starting point contributions to this volume include topics such as historical corpus design TEI based digital edition 3D modelling database architecture or automatic text annotation For readers interested in the subject the book provides a stimulating discussion with in depth and concrete analyses of the interrelationships between the different contributions This volume will be of great interest to medievalists and early modern researchers whether involved in linguistic historical or literary studies demonstrating the advantages of considering digital tools and computational methods in their academic work In addition it will also appeal to postgraduate

Marxism and National Identity Robert Stuart,2006-06-01 Post Marxists argue that nationalism is the black hole into which Marxism has collapsed at today s end of history Robert Stuart analyzes the origins of this implosion revealing a shattering collision between Marxist socialism and national identity in France at the close of the nineteenth century During the time of the Boulanger crisis and the Dreyfus affair nationalist mobs roamed the streets chanting France for the French while socialist militants marshaled proletarians for world revolution This is the first study to focus on those militants as they struggled to reconcile Marxism's two national agendas: the cosmopolitan conviction that workingmen have no country on the one hand and the patriotic assumption that the working class alone represents national authenticity on the other. Anti-Semitism posed a particular problem for such socialists not least because so many workers had succumbed to racist temptation. In analyzing the resultant encounter between France's anti-Semites and the Marxist Left, Stuart addresses the vexed issue of Marxism's involvement with political anti-Semitism.

Supernatural Environments in Shakespeare's England Kristen Poole, 2011-06-30 Bringing together recent scholarship on religion and the spatial imagination, Kristen Poole examines how changing religious beliefs and transforming conceptions of space were mutually informative in the decades around 1600. Supernatural Environments in Shakespeare's England explores a series of cultural spaces that focused attention on interactions between the human and the demonic or divine: the deathbed, purgatory, demonic contracts, and their spatial surround. Reformation cosmologies and a landscape newly subject to cartographic surveying. It examines the seemingly incongruous coexistence of traditional religious beliefs and new mathematical/geometrical ways of perceiving the environment. Arguing that the late sixteenth and early seventeenth-century stage dramatized the phenomenological tension that resulted from this uneasy confluence, this groundbreaking study considers the complex nature of supernatural environments in Marlowe's Doctor Faustus and Shakespeare's Othello, Hamlet, Macbeth, and The Tempest.
