Handbook of Research on Present and Future Paradigms in Human Trafficking Essien, Essien D., 2022-05-20 Human trafficking is currently regarded as a contemporary form of slavery However despite many initiatives undertaken over the last two decades to tackle the problem there seems to be a disproportionate emphasis on the social phenomenon Trafficking in persons remains a little explored area in scholarship with many inconsistencies and ambiguities yet to be attended to

Human trafficking is a multifaceted issue that requires a multidisciplinary approach that must be studied and considered thoroughly and with heavy regard to the many layers of the issue The Handbook of Research on Present and Future Paradigms in Human Trafficking presents a comprehensible view of what constitutes the underpinning of human trafficking the means of combating it its moral implications and offers possible solutions toward curbing its excesses inconsistencies and ambiguities Covering a range of topics such as social change human rights and ethics this major reference work is ideal for researchers scholars practitioners government officials policymakers instructors academicians and students Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015, Volumes 1a & 1b (Set) Union of International Associations, 2014-06-16 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events The Delusion of Knowledge Transfer Susanne Koch, Peter Weingart, 2016-12-13 With the rise of the knowledge for development paradigm expert advice has become a prime instrument of foreign aid At the same time it has been object of repeated criticism the chronic failure of technical assistance a notion under which advice is commonly subsumed has been documented in a host of studies Nonetheless international organisations continue to send advisors promising to increase the effectiveness of expert support if their technocratic recommendations are taken up This book reveals fundamental problems of expert advice in the context of aid that concern issues of power and legitimacy rather than merely flaws of implementation Based on empirical evidence from South Africa and Tanzania the authors show that aid related advisory processes are inevitably obstructed by colliding interests political pressures and hierarchical relations that impede knowledge transfer and mutual learning As a result recipient governments find themselves caught in a perpetual cycle of dependency continuously advised by experts who convey the shifting paradigms and agendas of their respective donor governments For young democracies the persistent presence of external actors is hazardous ultimately it poses a threat to the legitimacy of their governments if their policy making becomes more responsive to foreign demands than to the preferences and needs of their citizens Instant Insights: Supporting cereal production in sub-Saharan Africa Tinashe Chiurugwi, Simon Kerr, Ian Midgley, L. A. Boyd, Johnson Kamwaga, Peter Njau, Terry van Gevelt, Claudia Canales, Max Marcheselli, T. Abdoulaye, A. S. Bamire, A. A. Akinola, A. Alene, A. Menkir, V. Manyong, Alpha Y. Kamara, Willmar L. Leiser, H. Frederick Weltzien-Rattunde, Eva Weltzien, Bettina I.G. Haussmann, 2021-06-15 This specially curated collection features four reviews of current and key research on supporting cereal production in sub Saharan Africa The first chapter reviews how research and development can support smallholder wheat farmers through improving access to resources and services The chapter considers current obstacles faced by smallholder farmers including biophysical limitations such as climatic issues as well as socio economic limitations such as land availability The second chapter assesses the importance of increasing the adoption rate of improved maize technologies within smallholder farming households across Africa The chapter discusses the economic and institutional barriers inhibiting adoption as well as farmer attitudes to innovation The third chapter describes the effect of poor soil fertility drought and weeds on maize yields in West Africa The chapter considers strategies for mitigating these constraints including nutrient management using fertilizers weed management and resistant varieties of maize The final chapter discusses phosphorus scarcity in areas of West Africa and details the need to improve sorghum breeding to enhance the crop s tolerance to low phosphorus soil conditions
