Middle School Cooking Class Curriculum:

Development of a Nutrition and Cooking Curriculum for Middle School Students in Los Angeles Alyssa

Bartholomew, Esther J. Schultz, 2018 Obesity in childhood and adolescence is a major national and global public health concern Nutrition education programs are important tools in the fight against obesity Including cooking skill development as part of nutrition education programs could enhance the effectiveness of these programs in helping to prevent obesity With this in mind this project developed and implemented a combined nutrition and cooking curriculum based on MyPlate principles for 7th grade students in the Los Angeles Unified School District LAUSD This behavior based intervention program aimed to provide students with the knowledge and skills required to make simple nutritionally balanced meals in accordance with recommended dietary allowances RDAs of macro and micronutrients Students were to receive five 1 hour nutrition classes and five 1 hour cooking classes over a 5 week period The curriculum was delivered to one gifted 7th grade class in the medical magnet program at Christopher Columbus Middle School in Canoga Park California During the lessons qualitative observations were noted to allow for changes to be made to the curriculum to improve learning outcomes In addition four dietetic experts evaluated the curriculum and modifications were made based on their feedback Providing adolescents with nutrition knowledge and cooking skills is one tool to help prevent childhood obesity

Improving the Health of Adolescents & Young Adults ,2004 Resources in Education ,1998 EcoJustice Education Rebecca A. Martusewicz,Jeff Edmundson,John Lupinacci,2020-07-14 The third edition of this groundbreaking text offers a powerful model for cultural ecological analysis and a pedagogy of responsibility Authors Martusewicz Edmundson and Lupinacci provide teachers teacher educators and educational scholars with the theory and classroom practices they need to help develop citizens who are prepared to support and achieve diverse democratic and sustainable societies in an increasingly globalized world Readers are asked to consider curricular strategies to bring these issues to life in their own classrooms across disciplines Designed for introductory educational foundations and multicultural education courses EcoJustice Education is written in a narrative conversational style grounded in place and experience but also pushes students to examine the larger ideological social historical and political contexts of the crises humans and the planet we inhabit are facing Fully updated with cutting edge research statistics and current events throughout the third edition addresses important topics such as Indigenous learning Black Lives Matter the Flint Water Crisis Standing Rock the rise of fascism and climate change and develops EcoJustice approaches to confronting these issues An accompanying online resource includes a conceptual toolbox links to related resources and more The Institutions of Education William K. Cummings,2003-01-01 At many times in educational history including the past decade there are reports of crisis and cries for reform The successes of foreign competitors are pointed to new moneys are sought and laws passed Occasionally these reform efforts make a difference Just as often they end up as mere rhetoric and the educational indicators continue to slide Education is a dynamic sector with its ups and downs To understand these ups and downs and to gain a clearer grasp of the essentials of reform we need to look deeply into the origins and development of successful and failed reforms This book seeks to answer that need To do so it stresses two important themes First the essence of educational practice lies in the institutionalised ideals and norms of an educational system not in how much is spent on education or how many people are involved in education Second while many contemporary observers of education tend to think that sound educational practice is pretty much the same around the world this book argues that these are at least six distinctive educational InstitutionS currently in place in the modern world each with its unique strengths and weaknesses Each also has its own cycle of reform and renewal So the landscape of educational reform is much broader than most observers acknowledge The book is unique in highlighting the principle characteristics of Japanese education alongside those of Soviet Russia and the core educational systems of Western Europe and North America While the account focuses on national differences the analysis actually begins from the ground up looking at particular schools that emerged early in the six modernising experiences These early schools are described here as representative schools for the practices they initiated have had a profound influence on the direction of subsequent reforms in their respective national settings School Training for the Home Duties of Women ... Great Britain.
