Shaw,2012-12-06 Anxiety is one of those entitles which everyone knows but which ultimately resists simple objective description The essence of the phenomenon is its subjectivity True it has its well documented associated physiological events the increased pulse rate and blood pressure sweating and so on but each of these phenomena may also be part of physical exertion fear or even pleasurable excitement They cannot fully define the sense of threat danger collapse malignancy in greater or smaller amount in greater or lesser localisation with more or less objective evidence for its validity that characterises the particular psychological pain we all recognize as anxiety It is precisely the essential subjectivity of anxiety and its association with an enormous range of experience that makes it difficult to assign to it well defined diagnostic labels of the kinds so carefully described by Dr Spitzer in his chapter on classification His chapter ranges from the extreme dread of Panic Disorders to the diffuse terror of the environment which used to be labelled Agoraphobia and is still so called in the day to day pragmatic usage of many clinics and is not assimilated to the class of phobias with the label Social Phobias He also addresses the Simple Phobias which are perhaps the most readily labelled of the many varieties of anxiety The American Catalog, 1900-1905 ,1905
