Continuing Professional Teacher Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Yusuf Sayed, 2018-03-22 Continuing Professional Teacher Development in Sub-Saharan Africa explores the prospects that the on going continuous professional development CPD of teachers working in schools offers for meaningful change particularly towards improving the quality of educational provision for the majority of the continent's children. By reflecting on teacher professional development efforts and their place in broader education reforms, the book highlights the challenges of teacher CPD in these education contexts, contexts strongly shaped by endemic poverty, underdevelopment, and social upheaval. The collection draws together examples of innovation and resilience and the valuing of teachers as critical role players enabled and empowered through their ongoing development as education professionals. Drawing together a wealth of experience, the volume identifies the policy and research implications for the future of CPD across the continent, providing important lessons that can be integrated into a post-2015 development agenda for Africa.

Scaffolding work-integrated learning excursions
 Adri Du Toit, Neal Petersen, Iman C. Chahine, 2025-02-28

In South Africa, work-integrated learning (WIL) excursions are crucial in preparing university students for the world of work. As higher education institutions (HEIs) evolve to promote equity and inclusivity, these excursions are continuously refined to enhance student learning outcomes. This scholarly book explores how WIL excursions support self-directed learning (SDL) and foster skills essential for the 21st century, such as active learning, intercultural sensitivity, and epistemological access. A key focus is on the 2023 WIL excursions at North West University (NWU), which align with South Africa's National Development Plan 2030 and the University Capacity Development Grant's (UCDG) goal of equipping graduates to address contemporary societal challenges. The book examines first-year excursions across three faculties: Education, Health Sciences, and Law, using both virtual and in-person experiences to develop intercultural citizenship, communication, and a sense of belonging. Through research-based insights, the chapters highlight how these excursions were designed and implemented to help students recognise personal biases, deepen cultural awareness, and take responsibility for their own learning. Additionally, the book underscores how students were encouraged to identify their learning needs and access resources that promote ongoing self-directed growth. By linking WIL to SDL, the book provides novel perspectives on fostering inclusivity and preparing students for their academic journeys, professional careers, and contributions to a more socially just world.

Knowledge and Change in African Universities
 Michael Cross, 2017-01-28

Besides the ongoing concern with the epistemological and theoretical hegemony of the West in African academic practice, the book aims at understanding how knowledge is produced and controlled through the interplay of the politics of knowledge and current intellectual discourses in universities in Africa. In this regard, the book calls for African universities to relocate from the position of object to subject in order to gain a form of liberated epistemological voice more responsive to the social and economic complexities of the continent. In itself, this is a critical exposé of contemporary practices in knowledge advancement in the continent. Broadly, the book addresses the following questions: How can African universities reinvent knowledge production and dissemination in the face of the dominant Eurocentrism so pervasive and characteristic of academic practice in Africa to enhance their relevance to the contexts in which they operate? How can such change particularly at knowledge production and distribution levels be undertaken without falling into an intellectual and discursive ghettoization in the global context What then is the role of academics policy makers and curriculum and program designers in dealing with biases and distortions to integrate policies knowledge and pedagogy that reflect current cultural diversity both local and global Against this backdrop while some contributions in this book argue that emancipatory epistemic voice in African universities is not yet born or it is struggling with little success many dissenting voices charge that if Africans do not take responsibility and construct knowledge strategies for their own emancipation who will
