ACCA F5 Study Material PDF Full View Download , MasterClass in History Education Christine

Counsell, Katharine Burn, Arthur Chapman, 2016-10-06 MasterClass in History Education draws on international research and practice to present effective and engaging approaches for history teachers who want to explore the ways in which reading research and reflection can support the development of history teaching and learning in the classroom. At the heart of the book is a series of professional enquiries carried out by experienced history teachers working in a range of contexts. Each history teacher addresses clear questions arising from their practice and together they illustrate various approaches to data collection, data analysis and argument. These history teachers also show how they drew on diverse scholarship in history and history education including many publications by other history teachers. In eight further chapters other experts ranging from practitioner scholars to researchers in diverse fields such as history, history education, teacher education, teacher research and curriculum theory reflect on the distinctive insights that these teachers offer and explore connections with their own fields. The combination of perspectives and the depth of knowledge of the varied contributors reveal the importance of different kinds of relationship between theory and practice. The links between classroom realities and research and the critical use of different kinds of text will support history teachers in developing their practice and professional voice.

Using Film and Media in the Language Classroom Carmen Herrero, Isabelle Vanderschelden, 2019-07-11 This book demonstrates the positive impact of using film and audiovisual material in the language classroom. The chapters are evidence based and address different levels and contexts of learning around the world. They demonstrate the benefits of using moving images and films to develop intercultural awareness and promote multilingualism and suggest Audiovisual Translation (AVT) activities and projects to enhance language learning. The book will be a valuable continuing professional development resource for language teachers and those involved in curriculum development as well as bringing the latest research, theory and pedagogical techniques to teacher training courses. The Experiences of Black and Minority Ethnic Academics

Kalwant Bhopal, 2015-06-26 Recent research suggests that Black and minority ethnic (BME) academics remain underrepresented, particularly at senior levels in higher education and tend to be concentrated in new post-1992 universities. This book provides an original comparative study of BME academics in both the UK and the USA, two different yet similar cultural and political climates, considering issues of inequality, difference and identity in the Academy. Presenting a distinctive and engaging voice, the book discusses the complexity of race, gender and identity in the context of higher education, an area that continues to appear to be dominated by white middle class values and perspectives. Chapters offer an up-to-date commentary on the purpose, failures and potential of research on race, gender and identity and its place within contemporary education and sociology. The book broadens the understanding of educational research, considering both sociological and cultural discourse as well as examining racialized and gendered identities from a theoretical and analytical standpoint. The book closes by offering suggestions for viable policy shifts in this area The Experiences of Black and Minority Ethnic Academics will be of key interest to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the field of education as well as sociologists wanting to learn more about black and minority academics in higher education

The End of Stationarity Mark Schapiro, 2016-05-17 Scientists have devised a new term to explain the turmoil caused by climate change the end of stationarity It means that our baselines for rainfall water flow temperature and extreme weather are no longer relevant that making predictions based on past experience is no longer possible But climate change has upended baselines in the financial world too disrupting the global economy in ways that are just becoming clear leaving us unable to assess risk and causing us to fundamentally re think economic priorities and existing business models At the heart of that financial unrest is the role of carbon and as the world moves toward making more and more polluters pay to emit it a financial mystery unfolds What are the costs Who has the responsibility to pay for them Who do you pay How do you pay And how will those costs ripple through the economy These are the questions veteran journalist Mark Schapiro attempts to answer as he illuminates the struggle to pinpoint carbon's true costs and allocate them fairly all while bumping up against the vagaries of the free market the lobbying power of corporations the political maneuverings of countries and the tolerance of everyday consumers buying a cup of coffee a tank of gas or an airplane ticket Along the way Schapiro tracks the cost of carbon through the drought ridden farmland of California the jungles of Brazil the world's greatest manufacturing center in China the carbon trading center of Europe and the high tech crime world that carbon markets have inspired He even tracks the cost of carbon through the skies themselves where efforts to put a price tag on the carbon left by airplanes in the no man's land of the atmosphere created what amounted to a quiet but powerful global trade war The End of Stationarity deftly depicts the wild new carbon economy and shows us how nations emerging and developed teeter on its brink Originally published in hardcover as Carbon Shock the book is updated throughout and includes a new afterword based on the Paris climate talks
