"Code of Massachusetts regulations, 2014", 2014 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf Code of Massachusetts Regulations held by the Social Law Library of Massachusetts as of January 2020     Polling Student Voices for School Improvement Paris S. Strom,Robert D. Strom,2023-11-01 The purpose of this book is to help secondary school principals and college faculty fulfill their key role for continuous improvement planning of educational practices and safety at their institution Rapid social and technological advances have motivated the consideration of student voice in schools across the United States By merging student voice and educator expertise an intergenerational perspective can emerge that more accurately portrays the strengths and limitations of a school Strom and Strom began their research on student voice by partnering with adolescents and principals from several schools to identify topics they saw as appropriate for polling to improve schools This effort led to the development of ten polls on school stress career exploration time management attention and distraction tutoring peer support school cheating frustration cyberbullying and Internet learning Every poll contains 15 to 20 multiple choice items The process model for polling includes a step by step procedure that educational leaders can use to plan and implement school improvement Different methods of data analysis and ways to report overall evidence based school results are presented by age gender grade and ethnicity Student polling is distinctive from other assessment strategies because the target for data gathering is a single school without comparison to other schools This narrow base to assess student voice ensures poll results are anonymous and have local relevance to guide stakeholder responses The results of polling can provide data based evidence that can be used for continuous education improvement planning An additional benefit is to separately assess students in special education gifted and talented programs and second language acquisition learners Our web site at learningpolls org is intended to further inform educational leaders and invite their collaboration     Oswaal CBSE 10 Years Solved Papers Class 12 Commerce - English Core | Mathematics |

Reform Paris S. Strom,Robert D. Strom,2015-11-01 People generally acknowledge the superiority of adolescents in using technology tools needed for learning in the future The purpose of this book is to describe an online polling strategy that allows adolescents to make known how they view conditions of learning at their school A school improvement model illustrates how to combine results of student polling with stakeholders perceptions in the scheme of school reform Student polling differs from other strategies because the target for gathering data is a single school This deliberately narrow base for sampling student opinion ensures poll results have local relevance that can motivate stakeholder involvement and guide their response Over 14 000 secondary students have completed polls examined in the text These ten polls include career exploration time management selective attention and distraction motivation for Internet learning tutoring peer support cheating frustration cyberbullying and school stress Students are the stakeholders with the most to gain or lose in efforts to keep American education competitive Accordingly their views should be sought as part of decision making about reform When student opinion and adult observation are considered an intergenerational perspective can emerge that more accurately portrays institutional strengths and limitations School principals superintendents and state department of education leaders are invited to consider a collaborative project with the authors Software offers administrators rapid feedback on whole school results Finding out how special education gifted and talented and second language acquisition students view their conditions of learning gives additional insight about school improvement

Research on Emotion and Learning: Contributions from Latin America Camilo Hurtado-Parrado,Carlos Gantiva,Leonardo A. Ortega,Alexander Gómez-A,Lucas Cuenya,Javier Leonardo Rico,2020-05-11 Latin America has increased its share of world scientific publications by nearly twofold during the last two decades approximately from 2 to 4% Despite this positive trend the scholarly impact of scientific research produced in the region measured in terms of citation rate remains low Two interrelated factors that contribute to this situation is that most research groups tend to work in isolation or in local sporadic collaboration and results are often published in journals that are not indexed in major citation databases e g SCOPUS or Web of Science Ultimately part of Latin American high quality research seems to remain hidden from the rest of the world Over the last decades an important number of Latin American scientists have developed fruitful research agendas on questions on learning and emotion focusing on basic and or translational research with humans and other animal models and implementing diverse methodologies Notwithstanding the important contributions of these research programs Latin American research on emotion and learning has followed the overall trend of other research fields throughout the region namely remaining partially hidden from the large scientific community of the world This Research Topic aimed to engage researchers from Latin America to share their empirical and conceptual work on learning and emotion Ultimately this effort was expected to strengthen and integrate our regional community of experts enhance global networking and establish new challenges and developments for future investigation

When Education Meets Politics in Taiwan Ka-ho Kwok,2017-09-13 Politics affect education particularly in transitional societies It is obvious that Taiwan s education reform and democratization share the same set of players All major educational players played a role at different stages in the electoral process striving for popular support This book applies game theoretic tools and proposes dynamic positioning as a new framework that regards Taiwan s education reform from 1994 to 2016 as the outcome of players strategic interactions instead of top down or bottom up The complex interplay is characterized by the continual adjustment of one s preferences and strategies in response to other players moves This concept helps explain how and why Taiwan s education reform was once embraced by most players cooperation but became a battlefield between different camps non cooperation soon after a change of the ruling party in 2000 It disputes various structural approaches on educational change including functionalism conflict theory globalization and theories of liberal democracy It also contributes to the field of game theoretical studies in education and the specific literature of politics social change and education reform      The Budget of the United States Government United States.
