

Genetics Practice Problems: Pedigree Tables

Remember the following when working pedigree tables:

- 1. Circles are females and squares are males.
- 2. A shaded circle or square indicates that a person has the trait.

The pedigree chart below is the inheritance of color blindness. Shaded individuals are colorblind. First, determine the probable genotype of person 1 - 15. Then answer the questions below the table.

What are the genotypes of the parents of II?

These parents (I) had a color blind son (II). He had the recessive trait color blind. Since from his mother, since the mother is not shaded she must be a carrier.

Number II was colorblind just like his father. Where could he get his allele for color blindness?

He inherited his allele for color blindness from his mother. Since he was born of a carrier and a colorblind man, from their alleles.

Number number II and II were colorblind. How did they have a colorblind son (II)?

Both mother and father are carriers for color blindness.

What must be the genotype of the parents of a colorblind daughter? Explain.

To have a color blind daughter, she must have the recessive trait color blind. Since from each parent, her father must be X<sup>c</sup>Y and mother must have to be X<sup>c</sup>X<sup>c</sup>.

If number II has a normal son, what is the probability that their son will be colorblind?

$X^N X^c \times X^c Y \rightarrow$  all of their sons will be color blind.
 (50%) (normal male)
