With high precision load and line regulation, these instruments keep the voltage steady when power level and load changes occur. The low-noise design makes specifications of less than 0.01% ripple common. These power supplies are available in three models for your application.

In all model-output models, select the polarity of output voltage and/or current connected to ground, providing a positive or negative voltage output. Outputs can also be divided up to 100V (100V model).

These power supplies also feature adjustable current limits, limiting your output current to avoid thermal damage to the load.

For more information, visit www.agilent.com or call 1-800-451-5353.

These power supplies are designed for the growing technology use. The voltage range, current range, output voltage resolution and output current resolution are all better than 0.01%. The E3600X series, particularly, has the best, best of both worlds. It's the only power supply that has a 100V output voltage and 100mA output current, making it the only power supply that can be used in a wide range of applications.
