

MARK SCHEME for the May/June 2010 question paper for the guidance of teachers

5090 BIOLOGY

5090/21

Paper 2 (Theory), maximum raw mark 80

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

- CIE will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

CIE is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2010 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

Higher Education Students Tony Cook, Brian S. Rushton, 2009-09-10 How to Recruit and Retain Higher Education Students is an invaluable resource for academic staff administrators and policy makers involved in student recruitment and improving student retention. It offers practical advice on how universities can influence the expectations of prospective students allowing them to make sensible decisions about careers, courses and institutions. Many surveys of students who drop out of university show that most do so out of disappointment. Failing to understand what higher education was about quickly enough they become confused and frustrated. Dropping out seems the best solution. This book describes a series of practices proven to encourage students to stay on, discussing the background research on student attrition. By preparing students better for their higher education experience, the practices in this book are effective not only in recruiting students but also in matching them to the right institutions and programmes. The practices described range from those reaching out in a broad way to communities of potential students to university support for pre-entry examinations to enhanced communication between institutions and applicants. All are described in sufficient detail to allow judgments to be made about how to use and adapt them to suit local needs. How to Recruit and Retain Higher Education Students provides a sound theoretical foundation for research into student retention and provides the necessary underpinning for those academic staff embarking on courses and assists in preparing them for their roles in both teaching and student support.

Human Development Maria Lucia Seidl-De-Moura, 2012-05-16 Human development has different meanings depending on the area we focus on. To the psychologists it is the ontogenetic process of individual development. It considers systematic psychological changes that occur in human beings over the course of their life span. To sociologists and economists among others the main consideration is the macro level of countries or regions and their development conditions related to human needs. Our book has two parts. The first one is entitled Development in the ontogenesis and it consists of three chapters whilst the second is Human development contextual factors also including 3 chapters. Together the two parts give the readers a panoramic view of very complex subjects and complement each other. Researchers of ontogenetic development cannot ignore that contextual factors are the basis of this process. On the other hand, social scientists worried about the macro variables need to remember that they are dealing with people who are affected one way or another by those variables and whose development is the product of biology and culture.

Excellence in University Assessment David Carless, 2015-04-24 Assessment in higher education is an area of intense current interest not least due to its central role in student learning processes. Excellence in University Assessment is a pioneering text which contributes to the theory and practice of assessment through detailed discussion and analysis of award-winning teaching across multiple disciplines. It provides inspiration and strategies for higher education practitioners to improve their understanding and practice of assessment. The book uses an innovative model of learning-oriented assessment to analyze the practice of university teachers who have been recipients of teaching awards for excellence. It critically scrutinizes their methods in context in order to develop key insights into effective teaching learning.

and assessment processes Pivotal topics include Competing priorities in assessment and ways of tackling them The nature of quality assessment task design The student experience of assessment Promoting student engagement with feedback An indispensable contribution to assessment in higher education Excellence in University Assessment is a valuable guide for university leaders middle managers staff developers teachers and researchers interested in the crucial topic of assessment

Human Evolutionary Biology Michael P. Muehlenbein, 2010-07-29 A wide ranging and inclusive text focusing on topics in human evolution and the understanding of modern human variation and adaptability Marking Matric Vijay Reddy, 2006 The past ten years in South Africa has seen many changes in education the creation of a single department of education common examinations for all learners in public schools in the country a new outcomes based education curriculum which was introduced to learners in the general education and training phase since 1998 and will be introduced to the further education and training phase from 2006 To evaluate the success of these changes South African researchers still use the indicator of student achievement The matriculation examination is the visible high profile and public performance indicator Every year parents learners teachers researchers government officials policymakers and the general public get involved in the debate around the matric examination with the most frequently asked questions being Did the pass rate go up Are standards dropping Are the results real or have they been manipulated How is our education system doing Are we meeting the development goals What should the matriculation examination of the future look like participants from government national and provincial Sex and Gender Hilary M. Lips, 2020-04-10 Are sex and gender really two different things How malleable is gender identity Do both gender and sex have to be conceptualized as binaries as having two distinct but complementary categories Should we emphasize gender differences or is that the wrong question When should we call a gender difference small Are women really nonaggressive or does that label stem from stereotyping How does subtle or modern sexism work on its targets Scholarship on these and other gender related questions has exploded in recent years Hilary Lips synthesizes that research for students in an accessible and readable way Concepts on sex and gender are presented with the social context in which they were developed As in previous editions Lips takes a multicultural approach discussing the gender experiences of people from a wide range of races cultures socioeconomic statuses and gender and sexual identities She emphasizes empirical research but takes a critical approach to that research Social Inequalities in Health in Nonhuman Primates Carol A. Shively, Mark E. Wilson, 2016-04-20 This book provides a comprehensive look at nonhuman primate social inequalities as models for health differences associated with socioeconomic status in humans The benefit of the socially housed monkey model is that it provides the complexity of hierarchical structure and rank affiliation i e both negative and positive aspects of social status At the same time nonhuman primates are more amenable to controlled experiments and more invasive studies that can be used in human beings to examine the effects of low status on brain development neuroendocrine function immunity and eating behavior Because all of these biological and behavioral substrates form the underpinnings of human illness and are likely shared among primates the nonhuman primate model can significantly advance our understanding of the best interventions in humans
