A Blueprint for Promoting Academic and Social Competence in After-School Programs

Thomas P. Gullotta, Martin Bloom, Christianne F. Gullotta, Jennifer C. Messina, 2010-06-25 School activities alone are not always sufficient to ensure children's academic progress or socio-emotional development and well-being. And the time when many children typically have the least adult supervision immediately after school is also the time that they are at the highest risk to act as perpetrators or become victims of antisocial behavior. Throughout A Blueprint for Promoting Academic and Social Competence in After School Programs which focuses on children in grades 1 through 6, noted experts identify the best practices of effective programs and pinpoint methods for enhancing school-based skills and making them portable to home and neighborhood settings. This volume 1 Analyzes the concepts central to effective after school programs 2 Offers developmental, cognitive and social ecology perspectives on how children learn 3 Features more than 100 exercises that develop young people's capabilities for academic, social, moral and emotional learning. These exercises are ready to use or can be adapted to students' unique needs 4 Emphasizes young people's development as students and as productive members of society during middle to late childhood and early adolescence 5 Presents explicit theory and evidence that can be used to explain the value of after school programs for budget proposals. This important book will find an appreciative ready audience among the program directors who design after school curricula, the educators who implement them, the mental health and social work professionals who help staff them and the current crop of graduate students who will create the next generation of programs.

Designing and Implementing Effective Professional Learning John Murray, 2013-09-18 For sustained success, educators must commit to their own lifelong improvement. A clear correlation exists between level of focus on teacher professional development, PD, and student success. In this book, John Murray identifies the characteristics of effective professional learning, detailing eight strategies for planning and executing and evaluating PD programs. Content includes: The proven backward approach to articulating the goals of your PD program; Descriptions of innovative and effective designs for professional learning such as Lesson Study and Instructional Rounds; Powerful approaches to designing and implementing online PD.

Intercultural Competences for Vocational Education and Training Filippo Bignami, Maria Giovanna Onorata, 2014-11-19 T00:00:00+01:00 In a globalized world characterized by transnational migration flows as an inevitable consequence of the increased mobility of individuals, coping with differences and with cultural discontinuity has become the main challenge in the education and training sector at all levels. This book is addressed to professionals in vocational education and training in an attempt to provide suggestions on innovative methods and intercultural approaches for inclusive continuous education. Starting from the achievements of the I VET European project led by an international consortium of Universities and training organizations, the book traces the broad multi-disciplinary epistemological framework underlying the proposed innovative methodology based on experiential learning and reflective practice and the didactic choices piloted with a group of VET teachers and trainers The focus is intercultural competence achieved through a situated and contextualized exercise of awareness about the specific situations in which differences emerge and mutual adjustment between different frameworks in full accordance with the constructionist approach to social interaction at the basis of the whole study      Making Mentoring Work Emily Davis,2014-08-13 Making Mentoring Work is a practical guide for school leaders interested in beginning or enhancing their mentoring programs for new teachers Readers can use the mentoring program rubric to pre assess their program and then choose the chapters that correspond to areas of growth Each chapter provides background research as well as practical steps and tools to make mentoring work in a school environment At the end of each section readers will find discussion guides that support program leaders in making the next steps organizing conversations with stakeholders that will transform and streamline new teacher support programs and increase new teacher retention and practice      Women Entrepreneurs in Small and Medium Enterprises OECD,1998-04-08 This conference proceedings explores the phenomenon of women entrepreneurs in small and medium enterprises examining such issues as governmental support networks doing business overseas starting businesses and financing      Geoethics G.
