

Understanding the ITBS Scores

- The score used for this presentation is the NPR score. What is the NPR score? NPR stands for National Percentile Rank, this means that #% of Lakeview students scored at or above the National norm group of students who took the test.
- The Reading Total Score comes from a combination of 2 scores/tests: 1.) Vocabulary and 2.) Reading Comprehension
- The Math Total Score comes from a combination of 3 scores/tests: 1.) Concepts and Estimation 2.) Problem Solving and Data 3.) Math Computation
- The data is presented in two different ways- 1.) Program Data –where we will focus on one particular grade level during a three year period and 2.) Cohort data --where we follow a group of students for 3 years to see if they are maintaining or growing.

When Springer invited me to prepare the International Handbook on Giftedness I was on a maternity leave with my 3 months old and my 5 year old was just starting school I however had wanted to prepare such a Handbook for a long time and was waiting for just the right moment to dive right into such an endeavor The time had come and I agreed to prepare a Handbook that would expose readers to new views great discoveries and significant advancements of scientific knowledge exactly as Richard Feynman advised see his opening quote at the beginning of the introductory chapter I have always been convinced of the paramount significance of the topic of giftedness and gifted education to the world as a whole There is no doubt that gifted individuals are and will be extremely important to society One way to understand the history of human civilization is via inventions and discoveries of the gifted All human cultural development builds on the amazing technological scientific educational and moral achievements of the human mind Today people increasingly realize that gifted and talented individuals are even more important than in the past Louisiana Register ,1999

Embedding Questions National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Testing and Assessment, Committee on Embedding Common Test Items in State and District Assessments, 1999-11-17 Policy makers are caught between two powerful forces in relation to testing in America's schools One is increased interest on the part of educators reinforced by federal requirements in developing tests that accurately reflect local educational standards and goals The other is a strong push to gather information about the performance of students and schools relative to national and international standards and norms The difficulty of achieving these two goals simultaneously is exacerbated by both the long standing American tradition of local control of education and the growing public sentiment that students already take enough tests Finding a solution to this dilemma has been the focus of numerous debates surrounding the Voluntary National Tests proposed by President Clinton in his 1997 State of the Union address It was also the topic of a congressionally mandated 1998 National Research Council report Uncommon Measures Equivalence and Linkage Among Educational Tests and was touched upon in a U S General Accounting Office report Student Testing Issues Related to Voluntary National Mathematics and Reading Tests More recently Congress asked the National Research Council to determine the technical feasibility validity and reliability of embedding test items from the National Assessment of Educational Progress or other tests in state and district assessments in 4th grade reading and 8th grade mathematics for the purpose of developing a valid measure of student achievement within states and districts and in terms of national performance standards or scales This report is the response to that congressional mandate
