INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES

Write your name, Centre number and candidate number in the spaces provided on the answer paper/answer booklet.

There is no restriction on the number of questions which you may attempt.

If a numerical answer cannot be given exactly, and the accuracy required is not specified in the question, then in the case of an angle it should be given to the nearest degree, and in other cases it should be given correct to 2 significant figures.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

The number of marks is given in brackets [ ] at the end of each question or part question.

The total number of marks for this paper is 420.

Questions are printed in the order of their mark allocations and candidates are advised to attempt questions sequentially.

The use of an electronic calculator is expected, where appropriate.

You are reminded of the need for clear presentation in your answers.

State-Building and Multilingual Education in Africa Ericka A. Albaugh, 2014-04-24 How do governments in Africa make decisions about language What does language have to do with state building and what impact might it have on democracy This manuscript provides a longue dur e explanation for policies toward language in Africa taking the reader through colonial independence and contemporary periods It explains the growing trend toward the use of multiple languages in education as a result of new opportunities and incentives The opportunities incorporate ideational relationships with former colonizers as well as the work of language NGOs on the ground The incentives relate to the current requirements of democratic institutions and the strategies leaders devise to win elections within these constraints By contrasting the environment faced by African leaders with that faced by European state builders it explains the weakness of education and limited spread of standard languages on the continent The work combines constructivist understanding about changing preferences with realist insights about the strategies leaders employ to maintain power
