Getting the screenshots prepared is a good approach that might time savings. But having screenshots already prepared in addition to callouts, explanations, and annotations is an excellent approach which you will save much longer. More than likely, you've all that stuff prepared inside your laboratory, inside processing technicians study guide, and it's not very polite to send to the person: "Read that fantastic manual". User may do not know the location where the manual is on the PC as well as on what page is the looked-for solution located. On the other hand, you may also have time and energy to manually cut particular pages with screenshots, and related instructions from your manual, and to attach them to each support message.
