1) European diplomacy may refer to the various political agreements or alliances made by the European powers with the intention to maintain stable international relations amongst one another. Therefore, the greatest achievement of European diplomacy would be the attainment of solid amicable relations among the European powers, in the hope of preventing or preventing the onset of a war in the region. The Berlin Congress would be considered the greatest achievement in diplomacy, having led to the Treaty of Berlin and a reduction of tensions regarding the Balkan region, despite other possible acts of European diplomacy such as the dance system in the 1900s. Bismarck's alliances not counted?

The Berlin Congress in 1878 was organized by Bismarck, the Chancellor of Germany and is considered the greatest achievement of European diplomacy between 1871 to 1918, as it helped to resolve tensions of the Eastern Crisis between 1875 to 1878, and thereby, not only, a aid to avoid a conflict or possible war between the European nations. The Eastern Crisis that necessitated the Berlin Congress posed a great threat to the relations between Austria-Hungary and Russia. The crisis began on the annexation of the Balkan region, which both Austria-Hungary and Russia had vested interests in. Tensions amongst the two opposing powers escalated when Russia invaded and took control of Bulgaria, which had violated an agreement with Austria-Hungary, hence possibly leading to a war between Russia and Austria-Hungary. This potential for war was hampered and prevented with Russia's proposition for Russian expenses, as well as France's agreement to assist in the case of a war; the Eastern Crisis would have had great chance to have escalated to an international war that would have damaged the relations in the Eastern region. However, this threatening potential for war was swiftly averted by the Berlin Congress, where Germany acted as a mediator. This feat of European diplomacy was able to find temporary solutions to ease of the intractable problems faced. One such solution was satisfying both Austria-Hungary and Britain through giving Austria-Hungary the right to occupy Bosnia and Herzegovina, as well as giving Britain permission to occupy Cyprus. Hence, with the assurance of occupation for both Austria-Hungary and Britain, they aided in satisfying their territorial ambitions within the Balkans enough to deescalate the potential of a war. Furthermore, to resolve the issue of Bulgaria which frustrated the whole incident, Bulgaria would be broken up into three parts, which allowed
