manage high levels of stress is a huge barrier to school improvement as well as successful sustainable educational leadership Stress in schools is on the increase as teachers and leaders have higher imposed targets than ever before and feel like they have less support A recent report stated that two fifths of teachers are leaving the profession within five years of starting and teachers taking leave due to stress is also on the increase it was reportedly up 10% over the last 4 years in 2012 and on the increase Stress in the teaching profession has often gone untalked about and headteachers especially feel unable to talk about it openly however it is very prevalent in the news at the moment especially since the head of Ofsted Sir Michael Wilshaw caused outrage when he said that teachers do not know what stress is

Leading From the Edge is unique because it looks at work related stress from a school leader s personal experience James Hilton worked as a headteacher for 15 years in large schools Following a nervous breakdown brought on by work related stress in 2006 and after a significant period of absence he returned to headship more self aware than before Chris Roome the mental health therapist who taught him many of the positive strategies he learned in his recovery will act as a consultant on the book adding significant credibility to the work Each chapter will conclude with learning points and a wealth of practical self help strategies Foreword by Richard Gerver
