field of learning and work Corporate Performance and Managerial Ties in China Chris Rowley, Ingyu Oh, 2021-11-29
In many countries business practitioners policy makers pundits and laypeople want to know how strong China really is in business In the preceding century the overall tone of business comments on China was filled with fanfare and ovation However despite economic performance and seemingly inexorable growth some global data in areas such as labour productivity and digital competitiveness show a different and more nuanced picture This collection provides a multi level reality check on the Chinese economy firm performance and managerial ties Given that China must transform its economy and business that can pull global talent together to produce high end technologies for radically innovative products and services this book proposes two questions First can China restructure its economy from a low cost growth model to a high value added innovative model without incurring major structural inertia Second can Chinese firms outperform competitors in global high value markets without relying on state initiatives central funding mechanisms and public R D institutions This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Asia Pacific Business Review Affirmative Action and the Impact of Promotion Policies on Interracial Conflicts in the U.S. Army Marcel Bolboaca-Negru, Ph.D., 2020-09-26 Many U S soldiers perceive the military promotion system to be unfair as a result of the implementation of federal affirmative action policies yet the Department of the Army has made few efforts to identify and address the nature of this problem This study examined the nature of the relationship if any between interracial conflicts in the Army and promotion policies resulting from affirmative action legislation The research questions and hypothesis focused on understanding soldiers perceptions of the enforcement and effect of affirmative action policies in the military promotion system This concurrent mixed methods study utilized critical social theory as the conceptual framework Online surveys based on the Ways of Coping survey were delivered to 163 soldiers at Fort Campbell Kentucky A total of 43 surveys were returned and used for data analysis of a MANOVA and a Chi squared test which indicated that racial myths were not significantly related to the affirmative action strategies used in the military promotion system Of the 43 respondents for the quantitative data a simple number generator was used for selecting 4 participants for qualitative interviews Qualitative findings indicated that racial myths do exist among soldiers these myths tend to cast doubt upon Black soldiers professional achievements despite their high achievement results on military promotion metrics This study can lead to positive social change by stimulating the redesign and accurate interpretation of military affirmative action policies investigating disparities in the military s grievance processes for racial discrimination complaints and minimizing racist behavior in the military culture
