

1. Write the definition of evolution. Give an example.

Evolution is the change in a population over a gradual period of time. Examples: the peppered moths changed colors as their environment changed color.

2. Why does evolution occur? Explain using: natural selection, variation, and random mutations.

Random mutations occur in populations all of the time. Mutations that produce variations (ie white fur instead of brown) sometimes help an organism ADAPT to its environment BETTER. Organisms that are better adapted are more likely to live and produce offspring. Eventually, this trait can take over a population.

3. How does studying embryos give us clues to which organisms are most closely related? Give an example.

Embryos that have the most similarities throughout gestation are most likely more closely related. For example, the rabbit and the human are almost identical up until the third trimester.

4. What is the difference between artificial and natural selection. Give examples of each.

Artificial is driven by humans while natural selection is driven by nature. Dogs are an example of artificial selection while wolves are an example of natural selection.

5. Describe the bunny lab. What made the bunny population grow? Disappear? Change?

In the bunny lab, you could add mutations that enabled the bunnies to better adapt to their environments (ie food sources, habitat, predators). A favorable trait quickly replaced the less favorable one.

6. Below is a phylogeny (tree of common ancestors):

- How are common ancestors indicated? Intersecting lines.
- Which organisms are most closely related? Bear/Chimp
- Which organisms are least related? Lamprey/Chimp
- Which organism is most closely related to a Lamprey? Sunfish

7. What is the definition of a species?

A population of animals that can interbreed and produce fertile offspring.

8. Are ligers, zorses, and mules considered their species? Why or why not?

No. They can mate but their offspring are sterile. You cannot breed two ligers and make more ligers.

9. Define "niche" and "competition". Give examples of each.

A "niche" is the role or function of an organism in its environment. "Competition" is a negative interaction between organisms where they are competing for the same limited resource (ie food or shelter). Examples: a predator's "niche" is often to control prey populations. "Competition" occurs between filters who compete and hunt in overlapping territories.

Powerful Questioning Michael Chiles, 2023-04-21 Foreword by John Hattie Questioning is a staple feature of a teacher's toolkit across all phases of education Classrooms are awash with explanation modelling and feedback but of all the pedagogical strategies at a teacher's disposal questioning is one of the most important It is the heartbeat of a classroom While the art of asking a question seems relatively straightforward to what extent do teachers consider the types of questions they are using. Are the questions they ask students actually helping to support learning? In Powerful Questioning Michael Chiles delves into the complexity of asking questions and how best to use this pedagogical tool as a powerful springboard to support learning in the classroom. Teachers are described by many as professional question askers and the use of questioning in the teaching and learning process dates back to one of the most influential users and developers of questions: the Greek philosopher Socrates. Socrates believed that by asking questions we encourage reflection and that their use is most effective when we create a continual loop of dialogue between the asker and the receiver to allow movement from surface to deeper level thinking. Powerful Questioning takes inspiration from this providing original theory that relates back to the historical use of questioning in the classroom throughout. Offering a fresh perspective on how questioning can be engineered to support effective learning, Powerful Questioning examines the reasons behind the questions we ask and reveals the power of asking the right questions in the right way at the right time. It details a set of core principles, recommendations and classroom based practical examples that can be used to implement powerful questioning both in the classroom and wider school. Michael's aim is to help teachers become research informed on the theories around the use of questioning in the classroom whilst also providing a wide range of practical classroom based strategies. Readers will take away specific examples from a broad range of case studies in which teachers at different phases of education from Key Stages one to five share how they use questioning to improve learning and retention. Essential reading for all teachers and school leaders.
