Validating Technological Innovation David Coniam, Peter Falvey, 2016-04-02 This book discusses Hong Kong's use of onscreen marking OSM in public examinations. Given that Hong Kong leads the way in OSM innovation, this book has arisen from a recognised need to provide a comprehensive coherent account of the findings of various separate but linked validation studies of onscreen public examinations in Hong Kong. The authors discuss their experience of the validation process, demonstrating how high stakes innovation should be fully validated by a series of research studies in order to satisfy key stakeholders.

Advances in Fluid-Structure Interaction Marianna Braza, Alessandro Bottaro, Mark Thompson, 2016-04-07 This book addresses flow separation within the context of fluid structure interaction phenomena. Here new findings from two research communities focusing on fluids and structures are brought together, emphasizing the importance of a unified multidisciplinary approach. The book covers the theory, experimental findings, numerical simulations and modeling in fluid dynamics and structural mechanics for both incompressible and compressible separated unsteady flows. There is a focus on the morphing of lifting structures in order to increase their aerodynamic and/or hydrodynamic performances to control separation and to reduce noise, as well as to inspire the design of novel structures. The different chapters are based on contributions presented at the ERCOFTAC Symposium on Unsteady Separation in Fluid Structure Interaction held in Mykonos, Greece, 17-21 June 2013, and include extended discussions and new highlights. The book is intended for students, researchers and practitioners in the broad field of computational fluid dynamics and computational structural mechanics. It aims at supporting them while dealing with practical issues such as developing control strategies for unsteady separation and applying smart materials and biomimetic approaches for design and control.

Deep Learning for Marine Science Haiyong Zheng, Mark C. Benfield, Hongsheng Bi, Xuemin Cheng, 2024-05-15 Deep learning (DL) mainly composed of deep and complex neural networks such as recurrent network and convolutional network is an emerging research branch in the field of artificial intelligence and machine learning. DL revolution has a far-reaching impact on all scientific disciplines and every corner of our lives. With continuing technological advances, marine science is entering into the big data era with the exponential growth of information. DL is an effective means of harnessing the power of big data. Combined with unprecedented data from cameras, acoustic recorders, satellite remote sensing and large model outputs, DL enables scientists to solve complex problems in biology, ecosystems, climate, energy, as well as physical and chemical interactions. Although DL has made great strides, it is still only beginning to emerge in many fields of marine science, especially towards representative applications and best practices for the automatic analysis of marine organisms and marine environments. DL in nowadays marine science mainly leverages cutting edge techniques of deep neural networks and massive data which collected by in situ optical or acoustic imaging sensors for underwater applications such as plankton classification and coral reef detection. This research topic aims to expand the applications of marine science to cover all aspects of detection classification segmentation localization and density estimation of marine objects organisms and phenomena
