The End of Public Schools David W. Hursh, 2015-10-16 The End of Public Schools analyzes the effect of foundations corporations and non governmental organizations on the rise of neoliberal principles in public education By first contextualizing the privatization of education within the context of a larger educational crisis and with particular emphasis on the Gates Foundation and influential state and national politicians it describes how specific policies that limit public control are advanced across all levels Informed by a thorough understanding of issues such as standardized testing teacher tenure and charter schools David Hursh provides a political and pedagogical critique of the current school reform movement as well details about the increasing resistance efforts on the part of parents teachers and the general public

Access, Quality, and the Global Learning Crisis Sarah Kabay, 2021-08-26 Around the world 250 million children cannot read write or perform basic mathematics They represent almost 40% of all primary school aged children This situation has come to be called the global learning crisis and it is one of the most critical challenges facing the world today Work to address this situation depends on how it is understood Typically the global learning crisis and efforts to improve primary education are defined in relation to two terms access and quality This book is focused on the connection between them Through a mixed methods case study it provides detailed contextualized analysis of Ugandan primary education As one of the first countries in Sub Saharan Africa to enact dramatic and far reaching primary education policy Uganda serves as a compelling case study With both quantitative and qualitative data from over 400 Ugandan schools and communities the book analyzes grade repetition private primary schools and school fees viewing each issue as an illustration of the connection between access to education and education quality This analysis finds evidence of a positive association challenging a key assumption that there is a trade off or disconnect between efforts to improve access to education and efforts to improve education quality Embracing the complexity of education systems and focusing on dynamics where improvements in access and quality can be mutually reinforcing can be a new approach for improving basic education in different contexts around the world Biogeography and Evolution in New Zealand Michael Heads, 2016-10-04 Biogeography and Evolution in New Zealand provides the first in depth treatment of the biogeography of New Zealand a region that has been a place of long enduring interest to ecologists evolutionary scientists geographers geologists and scientists in related disciplines It serves as a key addition to the contemporary discussion on regionalization how is New Zealand different from the rest of the world With what other areas does it share its geology history and biota Do new molecular phylogenies show that New Zealand may be seen as a biological parallel universe within global evolution

Handbook on Gender and Health Jasmine Gideon, 2016-05-27 This Handbook brings together a groundbreaking collection of chapters that uses a gender lens to explore health health care and health policy in both the Global South and North Empirical evidence is drawn from a variety of different settings and points to the many ways in which the gendered dimensions of health have become reworked across the globe This collection includes insightful contributions from 56 leading authorities from Africa the Americas Asia Europe and the Middle East offering a wealth of knowledge theoretical reflection and empirical detail on the essential elements surrounding gender and health Topics covered include theoretical approaches to understanding gender and health migration sexuality ageing masculinities climate change and sexual and reproductive rights Split into four thematic sections this book strives to develop a clear road map towards achieving gender justice in health The Handbook on Gender and Health will be an important resource for researchers students and instructors of health policy and family and gender studies Contributors include G Alvarez Minte E Ansoleaga Moreno L Artazcoz A E Birn R A Burgess A Coates I Cort s Franch S Del Pino K Devries X D az Berr L Doyal K Elzein V Escib Ag ir B Eveslage C Ewig J Gideon J Gon alves Mart n B Gough H Grundlingh M Gutmann R R Habib M C Inhorn D Johnston D M Kamuya L Knight M Koivusalo R Kumar M Leite J Lyra E MacPherson A M Cardarelli P McDonough B Medrado L M Morgan S F Murray J Namakula L N ez Carrasco S Payne E Richards N Richardson M Richter S Robertson M Robinson J Samuel S Sexton J A Smith S Smith D L Spitzer S N Ssali S Theobald R Tolhurst J Vearey P Vero Sanso S Witter N Younes F Zalwango Brains, Media and Politics Rodolfo Leyva, 2019-11-25 Following the 2007 2008 global financial crisis a number of prominent academics journalists and activists were quick to pronounce the demise of neoliberal capitalism and governance This rather optimistic prediction however underestimated the extent to which neoliberalism has shaped the 21st century world order and become entrenched in our sociopolitical and cognitive fabric Indeed 11 years after the crisis and in spite of the significant levels of socioeconomic inequality psychological distress and environmental destruction generated by neoliberal policies and corresponding business and cultural practices the ideological hegemony of neoliberalism has not been supplanted nor has it really faced any serious unsettling How then has neoliberalism inflected and shaped our common sense understandings of what is politically economically and culturally viable To help answer this question this book combines leading theories from sociology media communication research developmental psychology and cognitive science and draws on primary evidence from a unique mix of ethnographic survey and experimental studies of young people s leisure practices and educational experiences of young adults political socialisation processes in relation to exposure to social networking sites and of the effects of commercial media viewing on material values and support for social welfare In doing so it provides a nuanced and robustly empirically tested account of how the conscious and non conscious cognitive dimensions of people s subjectivities and everyday social practices become interpellated through and reproductive of neoliberal ideology As such this book will appeal to scholars across the social and behavioural sciences with interests in neoliberalism political engagement enculturation social reproduction and media effects
