Varieties of Populism in Europe in Times of Crises Manuela Caiani, Paolo Graziano, 2021-03-25 Populism is booming across all the nuances of the political spectrum It occupies relevant positions in national parliaments in governmental coalitions with mainstream parties or as successful challengers of the political status quo This volume sheds new light on the topic from different methodological and theoretical angles and offers evidence from a variety of cases on the

why and how questions on populism's emergence and consolidation in Europe over the past 30 years. The volume composed of eight chapters investigates how different populist parties in the European Union have been affected by the various crises disentangling the role of the Great Recession vis-à-vis other factors such as political and party system factors but also structural social changes or cultural opportunities in the growing strength of populist parties in various European countries. More specifically, the volume aims to promote critical discussion on the concept of populism reflecting on its conceptual usability beyond the traditional party families to which it is usually related; use a preliminary theoretical clarification to shed new light on the different ways in which populism has been articulated in the various European countries either in Continental and Southern Europe or in the lesser known and studied East Central countries since the economic crisis which has acted as an external shock for many party systems either giving birth to new political actors or consolidating existing ones; investigate the connections between populism and the national contextual political and cultural specificities that can determine the development of different types of populisms across countries; elaborating on different configurations of triggering conditions for populism and reflecting on the limitations of a discrete conceptualisation of the phenomenon. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of West European Politics. Openings and Closures:

Socialist Strategy at a Crossroads Greg Albo, Stephen Maher, 2025-03-02 Since the 2016 upsurge in enthusiasm for electoral organizing and party building the terrain has shifted. It was not so long ago that a new wave of democratic socialist organizing exploded onto the scene. Quickly the defeat of candidates such as Bernie Sanders and Jeremy Corbyn had a deflating effect. This followed on the crumbling of the new parties in Europe. In Greece Syriza buckled in the face of the iron straitjacket imposed by EU institutions; in Spain Podemos fractured under the weight of its ideological and institutional weaknesses; and Bloco fared no better in Portugal. Meanwhile the Chavez inspired Bolivarian revolutions in Latin America hit an impasse barely stumbling along. We find socialist strategy again at a crossroads pressed by the urgent need to find new directions forward amidst mounting crises. Some on the left searching for new paths forward saw little alternative but to support authoritarian neoliberal states in their coercive response to a rising tide of hard right forces as if the repressive and bloody campaigns launched by powerful states could constitute junior components of anti-fascist popular fronts. Others in the left turned to the workplace taking new approaches to union organizing seeking to build a working class base for radical politics whose absence seemed directly responsible for another round of defeats. At this new conjuncture what was left of the strategy, tactics and organizations that had seemed so promising? Was the new socialist left starting over or moving on? This year's Socialist Register 2025 engages with the openings and closures of at the crossroads of Socialist strategy with case studies from Britain, US, Pakistan, Argentina, Germany, Bolivia, Barcelona and Turkey engaging with topics such as social struggles over climate change, Palestine solidarity, public banks, re-municipalization of utilities and unions. The History of British Women's Writing, 1970-Present Mary Eagleton, Emma Parker, 2016-04-29 This book maps the most active and vibrant period in the history of British women's writing Examining changes and continuities in fiction poetry drama and journalism as well as women's engagement with a range of literary and popular genres the essays in this volume highlight the range and diversity of women's writing since 1970 Colonial Racial Capitalism Susan Koshy, Lisa Marie Cacho, Jodi Byrd, Brian Jordan Jefferson, 2022-08-29 The contributors to Colonial Racial Capitalism consider anti-Blackness, human commodification and slave labor alongside the history of Indigenous dispossession and the uneven development of colonized lands across the globe They demonstrate the co-constitution and entanglement of slavery and colonialism from the conquest of the New World through industrial capitalism to contemporary financial capitalism Among other topics the essays explore the historical suturing of Blackness and Black people to debt the violence of uranium mining on Indigenous lands in Canada and the Belgian Congo how municipal property assessment and waste management software encodes and produces racial difference how Puerto Rican police crackdowns on protestors in 2010 and 2011 drew on decades of policing racially and economically marginalized people and how historic sites in Los Angeles County narrate the Mexican American War in ways that occlude the war's imperialist groundings The volume's analytic of colonial racial capitalism opens new frameworks for understanding the persistence of violence precarity and inequality in modern society Contributors Joanne Barker Jodi A Byrd Lisa Marie Cacho Michael Dawson Iyko Day Ruth Wilson Gilmore Alyosha Goldstein Cheryl I Harris Kimberly Kay Hoang Brian Jordan Jefferson Susan Koshy Marisol LeBr n Jodi Melamed Laura Pulido
