Spatial Cultures Sam Griffiths, Alexander von Lünen, 2016-06-10 What is the relationship between how cities work and what cities mean Spatial Cultures Towards a New Social Morphology of Cities Past and Present announces an innovative research agenda for urban studies in which themes and methods from urban history social theory and built environment research are brought into dialogue across disciplinary and chronological boundaries The collection confronts the recurrent epistemological impasse that arises between research focussing on the description of material built environments and that which is concerned primarily with the people who inhabit govern and write about cities past and present A reluctance to engage substantively with this issue has been detrimental to scholarly efforts to understand the urban built environment as a meaningful agent of human social experience Drawing on a wide range of historical and contemporary urban case studies as well as a selection of theoretical and methodological reflections the contributions to this volume seek to historically geographically and architecturally contextualize diverse spatial practices including movement encounter play procession and neighbourhood The aim is to challenge their tacit treatment as universal categories in much writing on cities and to propose alternative research possibilities with implications as much for urban design thinking as for history and the social sciences

Climate Change, Migration and Conflict in Bangladesh Md Rafiqul Islam, 2023-08-18 This book explores the relationship between climate change induced migration and conflict in Bangladesh one of the most ecologically fragile countries in the world It explores why people migrate from their original place of land and how the migration of people with a different background to an ethnically distinctive region due to environmental changes can become a source of conflict and violence between the host peoples and migrants The volume focuses on the Chittagong Hill Tracts CHT which has experienced long standing ethnopolitical conflict due to the settlement and migration of the Bengali people from the plain land of Bangladesh This settlement and migration were mainly caused climatic events such as floods cyclones sealevel rise and disasters It traces the history of the ethnic conflict in the region and presents key findings from the field as well as the dynamics of everyday politics in the region This volume also highlights how internally climate displaced people generate violence and civil strife in the major urban cities through their settlements in slums The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of environmental studies human geography migration and diaspora studies public policy social anthropology and South Asian studies

London the Promised Land Revisited Anne J. Kershen, 2016-03-09 Some two decades since the publication of London the Promised Land which charted and investigated the successes and failures of the migrant experience in London over a period of three hundred years this book re examines the migrant landscape in London While remaining a beacon for immigrants the migrant face of the city has changed rapidly and dramatically from one which was heavily populated by semi skilled and unskilled post colonial incomers to one which now embraces the EU Accession Countries refugees from the Middle East and Africa oligarchs from Russia the new wealthy from China economic migrants from Latin America and Ireland and still post colonial immigrants at the same time witnessing the exodus home of incomers or their descendants who now see opportunities where there were none before The contributors all leading academics and practitioners in their diverse fields examine changes to the migrant landscape of contemporary London at the micro meso and macro levels London the Promised Land Revisited thus explores a range of experiences in the capital including the presence and treatment of illness amongst migrants the phenomenon of migrant invisibility and asylum the migrant marketplace and ethnic clustering and interaction with local and national government across a variety of migrant groups both new and old As such this book will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interest in migration migrant experiences and the contemporary global city

Understanding Urban Cycling Justin Spinney, 2020-10-28 Academic interest in cycling has burgeoned in recent years with significant literature relating to the health and environmental benefits of cycling the necessity for cycle specific infrastructure and the embodied experiences of cycling Based upon primary research in a variety of contexts such as London Shanghai and Taipei this book demonstrates that recent developments in urban cycling policy and practice are closely linked to broader processes of capital accumulation It argues that cycling is increasingly caught up in discourses around smart cities that emphasise technological solutions to environmental problems and neoliberal ideas on individual responsibility and bio political conduct which only results in solutions that prioritise those who are already mobile Accordingly the central argument of the book is not that the popularisation of cycling is inherently bad but that the manner in which cycling is being popularised gives cause for social and environmental concern Ultimately the book argues that cycling has now become a vehicle for sustaining pro growth agendas rather than subverting them or shifting to sustainable no growth de growth and less technologically driven visions of modernity This book makes an innovative contribution to the fields of Cycling Studies Mobilities and Transport and will be of interest to students and academics working in Human Geography Transport Studies Urban Studies Urban Planning Public Policy Sociology and Sustainability

Ageing in Cities OECD, 2015-04-30 This book examines trends in ageing societies and urban development before assessing the impact of ageing populations on urban areas and strategies for policy and governance It includes 9 case studies

Routledge Handbook of National and Regional Ocean Policies Biliana Cicin-Sain, David Vanderzwaag, Miriam C. Balgos, 2015-05-15 This comprehensive handbook prepared by leading ocean policy academics and practitioners from around the world presents in depth analyses of the experiences of fifteen developed and developing nations and four key regions of the world that have taken concrete steps toward cross cutting and integrated national and regional ocean policy All chapters follow a common framework for policy analysis While most coastal nations of the world already have a variety of sectoral policies in place to manage different uses of the ocean such as shipping fishing oil and gas development in the last two decades the coastal nations covered in the book have undertaken concerted efforts to articulate and implement an integrated ecosystem based vision for the governance of ocean areas under their jurisdiction This includes goals and procedures to harmonize existing uses and laws to foster sustainable development of ocean areas to protect biodiversity and vulnerable resources and ecosystems and to coordinate the actions of the many government agencies that are typically involved in oceans affairs The book highlights the serious conflicts of use in most national ocean zones and the varying attempts by nations to follow the prescriptions emanating from the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention and the outcomes of the 1992 2002 and 2012 sustainable development summits The interrelationship among uses and processes in the coast and ocean requires that ocean governance be integrated precautionary and anticipatory Overall the book provides a definitive state of the art review and analysis of national and regional ocean policies around the world Issues in Teaching and Learning of Education for Sustainability Chew-Hung Chang, Gillian Kidman, Andy Wi, 2019-09-25

In a fast changing globalising world the teaching and implementation of a curriculum for Education for Sustainability EfS has been a challenge for many teachers Issues in Teaching and Learning of Education for Sustainability highlights the issues and challenges educators and academics face in implementing EfS and gives examples of what an EfS curriculum may look like and how some institutions translate the theory into practice Organised into three parts the volume looks at the who EfS for whom the what EfS curriculum and the how translating from theory to practice The concluding chapter provides ideas and directions on where the world can proceed regarding sustainability education and how it can help in the teaching and learning of sustainability Considering social issues such as poverty education health culture and the use of natural resources this book proposes a different path towards Education for Sustainability Providing concrete data on the realisation of sustainable development Issues in Teaching and Learning of Education for Sustainability will be of interest to geographers geography educators and professionals concerned with Education for Sustainability Origination Andy Pike, 2015-06-02

Origination The Geographies of Brands and Branding offers innovative theoretical and conceptual frameworks relating to the ways that actors create meaning and value in commodity brands and branding through processes of geographical association Provides innovative conceptualization and theorization to facilitate an understanding of the geographical dimensions of brands and branding Challenges current interpretations of brands as vehicles of homogenization in globalization Establishes the theoretical and conceptual foundations of a more geographically sensitive approach through rigorous empirical examination of the under researched geographical differentiation of commodity brands and branding Presents innovative new research and analysis of the socio spatial biographies of the Newcastle Brown Ale Burberry and Apple brands Forges strong new connections between political and cultural economy approaches within geography Provides a distinctive and incisive conceptual and theoretical framework capable of engaging other branded commodities and their branding in other times and places Global Governance and India's North-East Ranabir Samaddar, Anita Sengupta, 2019-06-04 This book maps the convergence of governance and connectivity within Asia established through the spatial dynamics of trade capital conflict borders and mobility It situates Indian trade and governance policies within a broader Asian and global context Focussing on India s North East in particular on India's Look and Act East Policy the volume underscores how logistical governance in the region can bring economic and political transformations. It explores the projected development of the North East into a gateway of transformative cultural interaction among people just as the Silk Road became a conduit for Buddhism to travel along with musical instruments and tea. Comprehensive and topical this book will be useful for scholars and researchers of political studies, international relations, governance studies, development studies, international trade and economics and for think tanks working on South and Southeast Asia.

Complexity and Crisis in the Financial System Matthew Holloway, Folarin Akinbami, Randal Michie, 2016-01-29. What are the long term causes and consequences of the global financial crisis of 2007-2008? This book offers a fresh perspective on these issues by bringing together a range of academics from law, history, economics and business to look in more depth at the changing relationships between crises and complexity in the US and UK financial markets. The contributors are motivated by three main questions: Is the present financial system more complex than in the past and if so why? To what extent and in what ways does the worldwide financial crisis of 2007-2008 differ from past financial crises? How can governments, regulators and businesses better manage and deal with increased levels of complexity both in the present and in the future? Students and scholars of finance, economics, history, financial law, banking and international business will find this book to be of interest. It will also be of use to regulators and policymakers involved in the US and UK banking sectors.

Arctic Governance: Volume 3 Geir Hønneland, Ida Folkestad Soltvedt, Svein Vigeland Rottem, 2019-12-04. The Polar North is known to be home to large gas and oil reserves and its position holds significant trading and military advantages yet the maritime boundaries of the region remain ill defined. In the twenty first century the Arctic is undergoing profound change. As the sea ice melts a result of accelerating climate change global governance has become vital. In this the third of three volumes the latest research and analysis from the world's leading Arctic research body the Fridtjof Nansen Institute is brought together for the first time. Arctic Governance: Norway, Russia and Asia investigates the foreign policy discourses of Arctic governance specifically as regarding international relations and competing interests between Norway, Russia and various Asian states.

Towards Good Order at Sea Thomas Mandrup, Francois Vre~ , 2015-03-01. The problems originating from the resultant bad order at sea can be directly felt on land when smuggling, terrorism and related criminal activities operate more or less unhindered. The book provides an important mapping of the challenges preventing good order at sea off the African coast and East Africa in particular. Rear Admiral N. Wang, Commandant Royal Danish Defence College.

The Shadow of Kenyan Democracy Dominic Burbidge, 2016-03-09. Why has democracy failed to reduce corruption in Kenya? Framing the challenge in game theoretical terms, Dominic Burbidge examines how mutual expectations between citizens dictate the success or failure of political reforms. Since 1992 Kenya has conducted multiparty elections with the hope of promoting accountability and transparency in government. This is being undermined by ongoing corruption and an increasingly centralised state response to terrorism. Providing a nuanced assessment of democracy's difficult road in Kenya.

Burbidge discusses the independent role being played by widespread social expectations of corruption Through tracking average views of the average person it is possible to identify a threshold beyond which society suffers mutually reinforcing negative social expectations This trend is the shadow of Kenyan democracy and must be treated as a policy challenge on its own terms before institutional reforms will be successful Eating the Ocean Elspeth Probyn, 2016-10-13 In Eating the Ocean Elspeth Probyn investigates the profound importance of the ocean and the future of fish and human entanglement On her ethnographic journey around the world's oceans and fisheries she finds that the ocean is being simplified in a food politics that is overwhelmingly land based and preoccupied with buzzwords like local and sustainable Developing a conceptual tack that combines critical analysis and embodied ethnography she dives into the lucrative and endangered bluefin tuna market the gendered politics of sustainability the ghoulish business of producing fish meal and fish oil for animals and humans and the long history of encounters between humans and oysters Seeing the ocean as the site of the entanglement of multiple species which are all implicated in the interactions of technology culture politics and the market enables us to think about ways to develop a reflexive ethics of taste and place based in the realization that we cannot escape the food politics of the human fish relationship Deepening Neoliberalism, Austerity, and Crisis Julien Mercille, Enda Murphy, 2015-07-07 From bank bailouts to austerity Europe's and Ireland's response to the economic crisis has been engineered specifically to shift the burden of paying for the crisis onto ordinary citizens while investors financiers bankers and the privileged are protected The authors expose the class based nature of Ireland's crisis resolution Housing Booms in Gateway Cities David Ley, 2023-06-29 HOUSING BOOMS IN GATEWAY CITIES David Ley examines the development of housing booms and policies intended to stimulate or limit them Utilising a comparative approach in five gateway cities he provides a superb understanding of the politics of booms lifting the debate beyond narrow housing and real estate studies This book is required reading for anyone interested in global cities housing markets or comparative urbanism Manuel B Aalbers Professor of Human Geography KU Leuven Belgium A stellar contribution to housing and its financialisation as central to the capitalist project globally Housing Booms offers a wonderful window into the ascendancy of the secondary circuit of real estate in Singapore Hong Kong Sydney Vancouver and London Critically through careful empirically rigorous comparison an eminent urban social scientist urges us to understand the importance of placing urban housing theoretically Loretta Lees Director of the Initiative on Cities Boston University Mastering a wealth of information and insights from five gateway cities David Ley provides fresh and inspiring explanation of both common global logics and diverse local trajectories of housing booms in the era of financialisation and asset based accumulation A timely and ground breaking contribution re positioning housing to the centrality pervasively felt in everyday life but largely unacknowledged in mainstream social science George Lin Chair Professor of Geography University of Hong Kong In Housing Booms in Gateway Cities renowned geographer Dr David Ley delivers a detailed exploration of housing markets in Hong Kong Singapore Sydney

Vancouver and London and explains why these gateway cities have seen dramatic increases in residential real estate prices since the 1980s The author describes how the globalization of real estate has rapidly inflated demand and uncoupled local housing prices from local wages causing acute problems of affordability availability and inequality The book implicates government policy in massive real estate price inflation describing a shift from welfare based to asset based societies It also highlights the relatively unique experience in Singapore where asset based housing policy has encouraged the dispersion of ownership and accumulation through an increased supply of subsidized leasehold apartments and the regulation of disruptive investment flows Housing Booms in Gateway Cities is an ideal resource for academics students and policymakers with an interest in urban geography sociology and planning housing studies and any of the cities discussed in the book It is an innovative treatment of housing as a central category in wealth accumulation in urban economies and societies

The Complacent Class Tyler Cowen, 2017-02-28 A Wall Street Journal and Washington Post Bestseller Tyler Cowen's blog Marginal Revolution is the first thing I read every morning And his brilliant new book The Complacent Class has been on my nightstand after I devoured it in one sitting I am at round the clock Cowen saturation right now Malcolm Gladwell Since Alexis de Tocqueville restlessness has been accepted as a signature American trait Our willingness to move take risks and adapt to change have produced a dynamic economy and a tradition of innovation from Ben Franklin to Steve Jobs The problem according to legendary blogger economist and best selling author Tyler Cowen is that Americans today have broken from this tradition we're working harder than ever to avoid change We're moving residences less marrying people more like ourselves and choosing our music and our mates based on algorithms that wall us off from anything that might be too new or too different Match.com matches us in love Spotify and Pandora match us in music Facebook matches us to just about everything else Of course this matching culture brings tremendous positives music we like partners who make us happy neighbors who want the same things We're more comfortable But according to Cowen there are significant collateral downsides attending this comfort among them heightened inequality and segregation and decreased incentives to innovate and create The Complacent Class argues that this cannot go on forever We are postponing change due to our near sightedness and extreme desire for comfort but ultimately this will make change when it comes harder The forces unleashed by the Great Stagnation will eventually lead to a major fiscal and budgetary crisis impossibly expensive rentals for our most attractive cities worsening of residential segregation and a decline in our work ethic The only way to avoid this difficult future is for Americans to force themselves out of their comfortable slumber to embrace their restless tradition again

Spiritual and Religious Tourism Ruth Dowson, Jabar Yaqub, Razaq Raj, 2019-08-12 This book reviews tourist motivations for making religious or spiritual journeys and the management aspects related to them It explores sacred journeys across both traditional religions such as Christianity and Islam and newer forms of pilgrimage faith systems and quasi religious activities such as sport music and food Demonstrating to the reader the intrinsic elements and events that play a crucial role within the destination management process it provides a timely re assessment of the increasing interconnections between religion and spirituality as a motivation for travel Providing researchers and students of tourism religious studies anthropology and related subjects with an important review of the topic this book aims to bridge the ever widening gap between specialists within the religious tourism management and education sectors     The European Union and the Geopolitics of the Arctic Andreas Raspotnik,2018-01-26 The Arctic is a region that has seen exponential growth as a space of geopolitical interest over the past decade This insightful book is the first to analyse the European Union s Arctic policy endeavours of the early 21st Century from a critical geopolitical perspective     China's One Belt One Road Initiative Tai Wei Lim,Wen Xin Lim,Henry Hing Lee Chan,Katherine Hui-yi Tseng,2016-07-28 Chinese President Xi Jinping launched the Silk Road Economic Belt component of the One Belt One Road OBOR initiative at Kazakhstan in 2013 OBOR is a development strategy and framework that focuses on connectivity and cooperation among countries primarily in Eurasia It consists of two main components the land based Silk Road Economic Belt SREB and ocean going Maritime Silk Road MSR This book studies the equilibrium or balance between overland and maritime trade routes of OBOR This book has two major sections The interpretive section examines contemporary media narratives related to the OBOR initiative and how contemporary commentators appropriate narratives about historical events related to the maritime Silk Road to interpret current policy agendas and legitimize diplomatic or economic exchanges In terms of institutional studies the chapters related to Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank AIIB will look at the issues facing the Bank in its quest in forming a new world platform for multilateral development financing The other section the empirical case study of the publication highlights the fact that Euro China High Speed Rail HSR and Central Asia China HSR are not viable at the moment as passenger volume is not sufficient to justify the HSR line This section examines the overland route of the OBOR and looks at recent Chinese HSR history and conventional sub high speed rail technology development and identifies technical economic criteria determining the appropriate technology for a certain line The chapter in this section will use the developed criteria to analyze the various rail linkage projects currently under study in the OBOR framework highlight the economic bureaucratic and geo political challenges that these projects likely face and lay down conditions that will determine the outcome of these projects
