The Shadow of Kenyan Democracy Dominic Burbidge, 2016-03-09 Why has democracy failed to reduce corruption in Kenya Framing the challenge in game theoretical terms Dominic Burbidge examines how mutual expectations between citizens dictate the success or failure of political reforms Since 1992 Kenya has conducted multiparty elections with the hope of promoting accountability and transparency in government This is being undermined by ongoing corruption and an increasingly centralised state response to terrorism Providing a nuanced assessment of democracy's difficult road in Kenya Burbidge discusses the independent role being played by widespread social expectations of corruption Through tracking average views of the average person it is possible to identify a threshold beyond which society suffers mutually reinforcing negative social expectations This trend is the shadow of Kenyan democracy and must be treated as a policy challenge on its own terms before institutional reforms will be successful

Home SOS Katherine Brickell, 2020-07-20 Drawing on 15 years of fieldwork and over 300 interviews Home SOS argues that the home is central to the violence and gendered contingency of existence in crisis ordinary Cambodia Provides an original book length study which brings domestic violence and forced eviction into twin view Offers relational insights between different violences to build an integrated understanding of women's experiences of home life Mobilises the crisis ordinary as a critical pedagogy and imaginary through which to understand everyday gendered politics of survival Positions domestic violence and forced eviction as manifestations of intimate war against women's homes and bodies located inside and outside of the traditional purview of war Reaffirms and reprioritises the home as a political entity which is foundational to the concerns of human geography

Owning the Earth Andro Linklater, 2014-01-01 Barely two centuries ago most of the world's productive land still belonged either communally to traditional societies or to the higher powers of monarch or church But that pattern and the ways of life that went with it were consigned to history as a result of the most creative and at the same time destructive cultural force in the modern era the idea of individual exclusive ownership of land This notion laid waste to traditional communal civilisations displacing entire peoples from their homelands and brought into being a unique concept of individual freedom and a distinct form of representative government and democratic institutions Other great civilizations in Russia China and the Islamic world evolved very different structures of land ownership and thus very different forms of government and social responsibility The seventeenth century English surveyor William Petty was the first man to recognise the connection between private property and free market capitalism the American radical Wolf Ladejinsky redistributed land in Japan Taiwan and South Korea after the Second World War to make possible the emergence of Asian tiger economies Through the eyes of these remarkable individuals and many more including Chinese emperors and German peasants Andro Linklater here presents the evolution of land ownership to offer a radically new view of mankind s place on the planet

Energy Security Cooperation in Northeast Asia Bo Kong,Jae Ku,2015-04-24 Drawing on cutting edge research from leading scholars this book investigates state preferences for regime creation and assesses state capacity for executing these preferences in Northeast Asia s energy domain defined as the geographical area comprising the following countries Russia Mongolia China Japan South Korea and North Korea It examines questions pertaining to how states perceive the need and necessity for establishing a regime when it comes to the issue of energy and how much commitment they make to the effort in Northeast Asia The book analyses the factors that shape each country s fundamental energy interests in the region how these interests impact their attitudes toward engaging the region on energy security and the way they carry out their regional engagement Based on countries interests in promoting institutionalized regional energy cooperation and their capacity for forging that cooperation the collection assesses each state s role in contributing to an energy regime in Northeast Asia It then concludes with a critique on the decade plus quest for energy security cooperation in Northeast Asia and suggests ways forward for facilitating regional energy security cooperation This book will be of great interest to scholars and students of environmental policy energy policy security studies Asian studies and international relations

The Urban Politics of Squatters' Movements Miguel A. Martínez López, 2017-11-27 This volume sheds light on the development of squatting practices and movements in nine European cities Madrid Barcelona Seville Rome Paris Berlin Copenhagen Rotterdam and Brighton by examining the numbers variations and significant contexts in their life course It reveals how and why squatting practices have shifted and to what extent they engender urban movements The book measures the volume and changes in squatting over various decades mostly by focusing on Squatted Social Centres but also including squatted housing In addition it systematically compares the cycles socio spatial structures and the political implications of squatting in selected cities This collection highlights how squatters movements have persisted over more than four decades through different trajectories and circumstances especially in relation to broader protest cycles and reveals how political opportunities and constraints influence the conflicts around the legalisation of squats p

Learning from the Slums for the Development of Emerging Cities Jean-Claude Bolay, Jérôme Chenal, Yves Pedrazzini, 2016-07-29 This book deals with slums as a specific question and a central focus in urban planning It radically reverses the official version of the history of world cities as narrated during decades slums are not at the margin of the contemporary process of urbanization they are an integral part of it Taking slums as its central focus and regarding them as symptomatic of the ongoing transformations of the city the book moves to the very heart of the problem in urban planning The book presents 16 case studies that form the basis for a theory of the slum and a concrete development manual for the slum The interdisciplinary approach to analysing slums presented in this volume enables researchers to look at social and economic dimensions as well as at the constructive and spatial aspects of slums Both at the scientific and the pedagogical level it allows one to recognize the efforts of the slum s residents key players in the past and present development of their neighborhoods and to challenge public and private stakeholders on priorities decided in urban planning and their mismatches when compared to the findings of experts and the demands of users Whether one is a planner an architect a developer or simply an inhabitant of an emerging city the presence of slums in one s environment at the same time central and nonetheless incongruous makes a person ask questions Today it is out of the question to be satisfied with the assumption of the marginality of slums or of the incongruous nature of their existence Slums are now fully part of the urban landscape contributing to the identity and the urbanism of cities and their stakeholders

Foreign Aid and Emerging Powers Iain Watson, 2014-07-11 Current debates on emerging powers as foreign aid donors often fail to examine the myriad geopolitical geoeconomic and geocultural tensions that influence policies of Official Development Assistance ODA This book advocates a regional geopolitical approach to explaining donor donor relationships and provides a multidisciplinary critical assessment of the contemporary debates on emerging powers and foreign aid bringing together economic and geopolitical approaches in the light of the 2015 completion of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs Moving away from established debates assessing the advantages and disadvantages of foreign aid this book challenges the current geopolitical assumptions of the emerging powers concerning issues such as south south solidarity shared development experience and multipolarity It analyses how donor governments sell aid to recipients through enabling different cultural assumptions and soft power narratives of national identity and provides empirical evidence on agendas such as aid effectiveness aid for trade public private partnerships and green growth aid The book examines the role of and relationships between the leading traditional and emerging power Asian donors specifically and explores the different and contested perspectives and patterns of ODA policy through an alternative account of emerging power foreign aid to leading African and Asian recipients This book provides a valuable resource for postgraduate students and practitioners across disciplines such as development economics and geopolitics of development uniquely approaching the debate from the perspective of emerging powers and donors Situating Data Science Michelle Hoda Wilkerson, Joseph L.

Polman, 2022-04-19 The emerging field of Data Science has had a large impact on science and society This book explores how one distinguishing feature of Data Science its focus on data collected from social and environmental contexts within which learners often find themselves deeply embedded suggests serious implications for learning and education Drawing from theories of learning and identity development in the learning sciences this volume investigates the impacts of these complex relationships on how learners think about use and share data including their understandings of data in light of history race geography and politics More than just using real world examples to motivate students to work with data this book demonstrates how learners relationships to data shape how they approach those data with agency as part of their social and cultural lives Together the contributions offer a vision of how the learning sciences can contribute to a more expansive socially aware and transformative Data Science Education The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of the Learning Sciences The Green Economy in the Global South Stefano Ponte, Daniel

Brockington, 2018-10-11 The idea and practice of the green economy is gaining momentum coinciding with financial instability and continued economic woe in the Global North but generally more positive economic circumstances in the Global South Green economic initiatives in the Global South are multiplying and include carbon payments ecotourism community based wildlife management sustainability certification initiatives and offsets by mining companies exploiting new resources These initiatives are reallocating resources redefining inequalities and redistributing the fortune and misfortune of participants of the green economy and those excluded from it They have also led to resistance locally nationally and transnationally and to demands for alternatives to market driven instruments and solutions which are generally gaining strength and coherence The articles included in this volume bring together a multi disciplinary team of scholars from North and South to provide nuanced analyses of green economy experiences in the Global South analysing the opportunities they provide but also the redistributions they entail and the kinds of resistances they face The ultimate aim of the collection is to provide a critical but balanced overview of the emerging green economy in the Global South and point the way to possible adjustments alternatives or radical resistance depending on different situations This book was originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly
