

HESI Case Study: Hypertension

George's blood pressure reading is 189/110 mmHg. His LDL cholesterol reading is 200 mg/dL. He asks the student nurse if he should be concerned about his blood pressure.

How should the student nurse respond?

Please sit here quietly for a few minutes. I need to recheck your blood pressure.

George's blood pressure is high but may be temporarily elevated due to activity or stress. The blood pressure should be rechecked after the client rests for a few minutes.

What significant risk factors for hypertension does the student nurse identify for George, according to this health history?

Select all that apply.

What significant risk factors for hypertension does the student nurse identify for George, according to this health history?

Family history of diabetes.

Alcohol consumption.

Smoking.

Stress.

Caffeine intake.

Alcohol consumption.

Excessive alcohol intake is strongly associated with hypertension.

Smoking.

Tobacco use is a risk factor for hypertension.

Stress.

High levels of stress can lead to an increase in blood pressure.

According to the assessment of this client, which recommendation is most important for the student nurse to provide to George?

See his HCP as soon as possible within the next week for a BP recheck.

George's blood pressure is significantly elevated. Since these BP readings were obtained on the same day, George needs to see his HCP soon for a second BP measurement so that a diagnosis can be determined and treatment initiated.

Which is the best response the student nurse can give to the George about the urgent need to see his HCP?

While often there are no symptoms, high blood pressure does cause damage to many organs.

Patricia P. Willems, Alyssa R. Gonzalez-DeHass, 2017-12-06 This case study book serves as a valuable tool for professors and instructors of educational psychology. It contains 18 cases that represent current areas of interest in Educational Psychology embedded within current challenges that teachers face in today's elementary grade classrooms. The cases are organized into six major parts: Human Development, Individual Differences and Diversity, Learning Theories, Motivation, Classroom Management, Instructional Approaches, and Assessment and Evaluation. Each case describes a detailed teaching scenario written from either the student or the teacher's perspective. To engage students in critical thinking, perspective taking, analysis, problem solving, and decision making, the cases have been intentionally written without a conclusion. Because the cases are open ended, it allows the professor or instructor more flexibility and autonomy in how they use the cases. Each case is followed by thought provoking questions highlighting the significant issues in the case from which to analyze the case and apply various theoretical viewpoints. While the cases do not replace actual classroom experience, they present a way to immerse students in the classroom's culture by providing them with real life teaching examples.
