¹ In this study, all reported fish species were collected during the period of post-monsoon season (September) in the Kumbhariyapatti village area which extends from 8° 30' North to 9° 00' N and 76° 30' E to 77° 00' E. The study was carried out by the author along with other geographers, biologists, botanists, etc. who have contributed to the development of the area. It has been observed that there are many small streams flowing through the area and some of them are very old. These streams are now dry and some of them are still flowing.

For the uninitiated, the term "multicultural" may seem like a new buzzword, but it has been around for a long time. In fact, the concept of multiculturalism has been a part of human history for centuries. It is the recognition and celebration of the diverse cultures, languages, and traditions that make up our world. Multiculturalism is not just about food and festivals; it is about understanding and respecting the differences that make us who we are. It is about creating a society where everyone feels valued and included. In this article, we will explore the importance of multiculturalism in our modern world and how we can promote it in our communities.

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

1. The first group is composed of those who are not yet ready to make a commitment. They are in the "I don't know" stage.

University students from both groups (i.e., shy and nonshy) were asked to rate several items on a 5-point Likert scale (1 = strongly disagree, 5 = strongly agree). Items and sample ratings are shown in Table 1. The shy group was significantly higher than the nonshy group on all items, indicating that shy students are more socially anxious than nonshy students. The shy group was also significantly higher than the nonshy group on the overall score, indicating that shy students are more socially anxious than nonshy students.
