Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 Maringe, Felix, Prew, Martin, 2015-05-05
Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially There has been no attempt to fit the book's chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Education's present and past We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years Making Education Inclusive Sharon Moonsamy, Elizabeth Walton, 2015-09-18 Exclusionary pressures and practices are pervasive in education despite the clamour for more inclusive education Even as classrooms worldwide become more diverse education is unlikely to become inclusive without deliberate efforts to dismantle exclusion and enable inclusion This book is a compilation of contributions to the conversation about what these efforts might entail The conversation has its origins in the Making Education Inclusive Conference held in 2013 which brought together academics and practitioners from Southern Africa and other countries Given the expectation that teachers should play a key role in promoting inclusion it is not surprising to find significant interest in teacher education from many of the contributing authors Their concerns range from explicit teacher development for pedagogical responsiveness to learner diversity to overcoming the epistemological marginalisation that learners experience where teachers are not fully confident of their subject content and how to teach it Access to education is clearly not enough and other contributors to this book concern themselves with ways in which structures and systems could be reconstituted to enable meaningful inclusion This might mean looking at how teachers might use tiered systems of behaviour support and various metacognitive strategies how physical access can be promoted on a university campus and understanding how parents think about disability Each chapter represents a different perspective on what it might mean to resist educational exclusion in its many forms and each offers possible ways to make education more inclusive Glances at Renewable and Sustainable Energy Till Jenssen, 2013-06-24 Differing interpretations perspectives and expectations on the term sustainability exist To take sustainability as an action guiding mandate for implementation it needs to be concrete and measurable as well it should weigh pros and cons But how can such an integrated measurement in the field of renewable energy be conducted balancing the trade offs between opposing indicators Glances at Renewable and Sustainable Energy provides a thorough overview on the generic principles of sustainability assessment including projective thresholding and systemic principles and summarizes five common approaches for a holistic measurement Approaches such as multi criteria decision analysis ecological footprint analysis and normative functional concepts are applied to different case studies in developed emerging and developing countries to cover a wide bandwidth of various renewable energy carriers under various conditions Each case study includes 2 boxes illustrating the scheme behind the approach and exemplary calculations to allow a systematic comparison and a critical reflection of the methods applied Compiling results on renewable energy assessment of the last decades Glances at Renewable and Sustainable Energy gives researchers students consultants politicians and entrepreneurs the tools to advance their oriental and instructional knowledge on sustainability and sustainability measurement to reflect their decisions and tools for analysis and to transfer this knowledge into problem solving

The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing, Volume II: Education Helga R. Gudmundsdottir, Carol Beynon, Karen Ludke, Annabel J. Cohen, 2020-05-19

The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing Volume II Education examines the many methods and motivations for vocal pedagogy promoting singing not just as an art form arising from the musical instrument found within every individual but also as a means of communication with social psychological and didactic functions Presenting research from myriad fields of study beyond music including psychology education sociology computer science linguistics physiology and neuroscience the contributors address singing in three parts Learning to Sing Naturally Formal Teaching of Singing Using Singing to Teach In 2009 the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada funded a seven year major collaborative research initiative known as Advancing Interdisciplinary Research in Singing AIRS Together global researchers from a broad range of disciplines addressed three challenging questions How does singing develop in every human being How should singing be taught and used to teach How does singing impact wellbeing Across three volumes The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing consolidates the findings of each of these three questions defining the current state of theory and research in the field Volume II Education focuses on the second question and offers an invaluable resource for anyone who identifies as a singer wishes to become a singer works with singers or is interested in the application of singing for the purposes of education

Diepsloot Anton Harber, 2011-05-03 In a little more than a decade Diepsloot has transformed from a semi rural expanse to a dense seething settlement of about 200 000 people A post apartheid creation lying to the north of Johannesburg Diepsloot is talked about as a place of fear vigilante justice xenophobic violence and a haven for criminals and undocumented foreigners Respected journalist Anton Harber spent several months there meeting the people drinking in the taverns and probing the bitter local political battles He patrolled with volunteer crime fighters at night He spoke to politicians church members and artists He interviewed city officials asking them why so little progress was being made in developing Diepsloot He investigated why the much need police station stands unfinished Amidst the poverty violence and chaos he found a bustling place much loved by its inhabitants an active economy with all the associated hustling and trading He found people who when neglected by the state made their own solutions Most of all I learned that if you want to understand where this country is headed you need to listen to the people of Diepsloot Hear what they are saying Take note of their hopes and aspirations You might be surprised Diepsloot is the first study of its kind that seeks to understand change as it is lived on the ground and not as it is talked about in the media and corridors of power Rich with detail and local colour it offers a nuanced examination of life as it is lived despite the State with its half completed police station and the ANC with its internecine warfare JACOB DLAMINI

Administrative Subdivisions of Countries Gwillim Law, 2015-05-20 In marked contrast to the United States with its territorial stability some countries such as Bulgaria and Ethiopia reorganize their regional subdivisions frequently This large format reference work simplifies the comparison of decades worth of data from such countries With this book in hand one can answer any administrative subdivision question about any state or province in the world from 1900 through 1998 Abstracts of Public Administration Development and Environment For each country there is at least one table and usually several Histories of subdivision changes and lists of alternate names for subdivisions in each country add to the work s research value All relevant national and international standards such as ISO and FIPS codes are listed as well as time zones populations areas and capitals for each subdivision There is a comprehensive index of names Mergent International Manual, 2003

The Political Economy of Africa Vishnu Padayachee, 2010-06-10 The Political Economy of Africa addresses the real possibilities for African development in the coming decades when seen in the light of the continent s economic performance over the last half century This involves an effort to emancipate our thinking from the grip of western economic models that have often ignored Africa s diversity in their rush to peddle simple nostrums of dubious merit The book addresses the seemingly intractable economic problems of the African continent and traces their origins It also brings out the instances of successful economic change and the possibilities for economic revival and renewal As well as surveying the variety of contemporary situations the text will provide readers with a firm grasp of the historical background to the topic It explores issues such as employment and poverty social policy and security structural adjustment programs and neo liberal globalization majority rule and democratization taxation and resource mobilization It contains a selection of country specific case studies from a range of international contributors many of whom have lived and worked in Africa The book will be of particular interest to higher level students in political economy development studies area studies Africa and economics in general
