Geography September 2memorandum Paper 1:

Educational Reconstruction Gary McCulloch, 2013-09-05 This book presents a clear overview of the debates that surrounded the making of the 1944 Act which affected every aspect of education in this country. It gives a detailed account of the tripartite divisions into three types of child that were sanctioned in the reforms of the 1940s. At the same time it also emphasises the idea of education as a civic project which underlay the reforms and which was such an important part of their lasting authority. The education policies of the past decade and the current attempts to shape a new education settlement need to be interpreted in a long term historical framework and in particular in relation to the aims and problems of the last great cycle of reform in the 1940s. This book makes an important contribution to the development of such a framework and the social history of education policy in this country.

The United States and the End of British Colonial Rule in Africa, 1941-1968 James P. Hubbard, 2014-01-10 At the end of World War II Britain possessed a vast African empire encompassing nearly 27 million square miles, about 10 times larger than Britain itself. But by 1965 only three small African territories remained under British control, all of which would become independent before the end of 1968. This book examines the swift demise of Britain's African empire, looking particularly at the role played by the United States in bringing the empire to an end. It reveals how the United States was anti-colonial without being actively pro-independence, concluding that the country's policies and actions combined with its postwar dominance directly and indirectly contributed to the political economic and social transformation of Africa The European Union and Human Rights Jan Wouters, Manfred Nowak, Anna-Luise Chané, Nicolas Hachez, 2020-12-17 With the adoption of the Lisbon Treaty the profile of human rights issues has greatly risen in relation to EU policies whether internal or external The EU has thereby made the commitment to ensure that all its actions are compliant with human rights and seek to promote them Yet the EU s commitment has come under scrutiny not only for its ground breaking character but also because recent events have put it to the test This volume has been designed to take stock of these developments to comprehensively discuss the conceptualization and operationalization of the EU s commitment to human rights throughout the EU s relationships policies actions and legislative activity and to critically assess its outcome This title is divided into four parts Framework presents the issues related to human rights promotion by the EU Actors delves into the relationships that play a part at home or abroad in regards to human rights policies and judgements Policies takes a case study approach and systematically reviews a range of EU internal and external policies to assess their human rights impact and implementation and finally Strategies provides an integrated assessment of the design and implementation of the EU s commitment to human rights This book brings together essays from around the world each discussing different aspects of EU commitment and evaluating the extent to which the EU is delivering on it Each chapter provides an introduction to the state of affairs discusses opportunities and challenges and provides recommendations As such it is an essential reference book on human rights policies throughout the EU and their impact throughout the world The Journal of Education ,1905 The Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal ,1893 Official organ of the book trade of the United Kingdom The English Catalogue of Books ,1899
