this book examines the rights through a sociolinguistic study of Zhuang the language of China's largest minority group The analysis traces language policy from the Constitution to local government practices investigating how Zhuang language rights are experienced as opening or restricting socioeconomic opportunity The study finds that language rights do not challenge ascendant marketised and mobility focused language ideologies which ascribe low value to Zhuang However people still value a Zhuang identity validated by government policy and practice Rooted in a Bourdieusian approach to language power and legal discourse this is the first major publication to integrate contemporary debates in linguistics about mobility capitalism and globalization into a study of China's language policy The book refines Grey's award winning doctoral dissertation which received the Joshua A Fishman Award in 2018 The judges said the study decenter's all types of sociolinguistic assumptions It is a thought provoking work on minority rights and language politics relevant beyond China

Teacher Education in Professional Learning Communities Xuefeng Huang, 2018-06-20 This book explores the unique experiences of a sister school network in Canada and China contextualized through the lens of the Reciprocal Learning Project which supports the relationship between a school network and teacher education exchange program of two countries Huang uses theoretical viewpoints from teacher learning and comparative education research to analyse and interpret what has happened in the emerging cross cultural school network The book juxtaposes teacher learning and comparative education research from Shanghai and Ontario as teachers in the two places interact and provides detailed descriptions of teacher collaboration to show how these collaborations were initiated developed and sustained as well as the impact brought about from these collaborations The book offers a unique opportunity to examine how Canadian and Chinese teachers receive and react to opportunities of cross cultural collaboration and learning

Governing Cross-Border Higher Education

Christopher Ziguras, Grant McBurnie, 2014-07-25 Governing Cross Border Higher Education examines the role of governments in relation to three key aspects of international education student mobility migration of international students and transnational provision through collaboration or branch campuses The research for this book is informed by interviews with key stakeholders in ten countries and extensive engagement with policy makers and international agencies It analyses the ways in which governments are able to direct or at least influence these cross border movements in higher education The book explores key issues that national governments are invariably required to contend with in an increasingly globalised higher education market as well as the policy options available to them in such a climate Alongside this there is analysis into why states adopt particular approaches with critical assessment of their varying success Key topics include the political economy of international higher education recruiting students promoting and regulating transnational provision student migration governing educational imports managing the outflow of students the regulated market This book will be a valuable and insightful resource for those involved in higher education policy and interested in the globalisation of the higher education market

Toward a Healthier Garden State Michael R. Greenberg, Dona Schneider, 2023-04-22 This book uses the past fifty years of New Jersey history as a case study to illustrate just how much public policy decisions and other upstream factors can affect the health of a state's citizens. It reveals New Jersey's most detrimental decisions but also considers how the state has developed some of the nation's most innovative responses to public health challenges. Rule Britannia Danny Dorling, 2019-01-15 Things fall apart when empires crumble. This time we think things will be different. They are not. This time we are told we will become great again. We will not. In this new edition of the hugely successful Rule Britannia Danny Dorling and Sally Tomlinson argue that the vote to leave the EU was the last gasp of the old empire working its way out of the British psyche. Fuelled by a misplaced nostalgia the result was driven by a lack of knowledge of Britain's imperial history by a profound anxiety about Britain's status today and by a deeply unrealistic vision of our future. A University Education David Willetts, 2017-11-17 Universities have a crucial role in the modern world. In England entrance to universities is by nationwide competition which means English universities have an exceptional influence on schools, a striking theme of the book. This important book first investigates the university as an institution and then tracks the individual on their journey to and through university. In A University Education David Willetts presents a compelling case for the ongoing importance of the university both as one of the great institutions of modern society and as a transformational experience for the individual. The book also makes illuminating comparisons with higher education in other countries, especially the US and Germany. Drawing on his experience as UK Minister for Universities and Science from 2010 to 2014 the author offers a powerful account of the value of higher education and the case for more expansion. He covers controversial issues in which he was involved from access for disadvantaged students to the introduction of 9,000 fees. The final section addresses some of the big questions for the future such as the relationship between universities and business especially in promoting innovation. He argues that the two great contemporary trends of globalisation and technological innovation will both change the university significantly. This is an authoritative account of English universities setting them for the first time in their new legal and regulatory framework.
