Geography Question Paper And Memorandum 2014 November:

The Middle and Upper Paleolithic Archeology of the Levant and Beyond Yoshihiro Nishiaki, Takeru Akazawa, 2017-12-06

This volume is a compilation of results from sessions of the Second International Conference on the Replacement of Neanderthals by Modern Humans which took place between November 30 and December 6 2014 in Hokkaido Japan Similar to the first conference held in 2012 in Tokyo the 2014 conference RNMH2014 aimed to compile the results of the latest multidisciplinary approaches investigating the issues surrounding the replacement of Neanderthals by modern humans The results of the sessions supplemented by off site contributions center on the archeology of the Middle and Upper Paleolithic of the Levant and beyond The first part of this volume presents recent findings from the Levant while the second part focuses on the neighboring regions namely the Caucasus the Zagros and South Asia The 13 chapters in this volume highlight the distinct nature of the cultural occurrences during the Middle and Upper Paleolithic periods of the Levant displaying a continuous development as well as a combination of lithic traditions that may have originated in different regions This syncretism which is an unusual occurrence in the regions discussed in this volume reinforces the importance of the Levant as a region for interpreting the RNMH phenomenon in West Asia

Russia and the New World Disorder

Bobo Lo, 2015-08-17 The Russian annexation of Crimea was one of the great strategic shocks of the past twenty five years For many in the West Moscow's actions in early 2014 marked the end of illusions about cooperation and the return to geopolitical and ideological confrontation Russia for so long a peripheral presence had become the central actor in a new global drama In this groundbreaking book renowned scholar Bobo Lo analyzes the broader context of the crisis by examining the interplay between Russian foreign policy and an increasingly anarchic international environment He argues that Moscow's approach to regional and global affairs reflects the tension between two very different worlds the perceptual and the actual The Kremlin highlights the decline of the West a resurgent Russia and the emergence of a new multipolar order But this idealized view is contradicted by a world disorder that challenges core assumptions about the dominance of great powers and the utility of military might Its lesson is that only those states that embrace change will prosper in the twenty first century A Russia able to redefine itself as a modern power would exert a critical influence in many areas of international politics But a Russia that rests on an outdated sense of entitlement may end up instead as one of the principal casualties of global transformation

Land Fictions D. Asher Ghertner, Robert W. Lake, 2021-03-15 Land Fictions explores the common storylines narratives and tales of social betterment that justify and enact land as commodity It interrogates global patterns of property formation the dispossessions property markets enact and the popular movements to halt the growing waves of evictions and land grabs This collection brings together original research on urban rural and peri urban India rapidly urbanizing China and Southeast Asia resource expropriation in Africa and Latin America and the neoliberal urban landscapes of North America and Europe Through a variety of perspectives Land Fictions finds resonances between local stories of land's fictional powers and global visions of landed property's imagined power to automatically create value and advance national development Editors D Asher Ghertner and Robert W Lake unpack the dynamics of land commodification across a broad range of political spatial and temporal settings exposing its simultaneously contingent and collective nature The essays advance understanding of the politics of land while also contributing to current debates on the intersections of local and global urban and rural and general and particular Contributors Erik Harms Michael Watts Sai Balakrishnan Brett Christophers David Ferring Sarah Knuth Meghan Morris Benjamin Teresa Mi Shih Michael Levien Michael L Dwyer Heather Whiteside Big Data Applications in Geography and Planning Mark Birkin, Graham Clarke, Jonathan Corcoran, Robert Stimson, 2021-05-28 This unique book demonstrates the utility of big data approaches in human geography and planning Offering a carefully curated selection of case studies it reveals how researchers are accessing big data what this data looks like and how such data can offer new and important insights and knowledge India China L.H.M. Ling, Adriana Erthal Abdenur, Payal Banerjee, Nimmi

Kurian, Mahendra P. Lama, Li Bo, 2021-03-11 Challenging the Westphalian view of international relations which focuses on the sovereignty of states and the inevitable potential for conflict the authors from the Borderlands Study Group reconceive borders as capillaries enabling the flow of material cultural and social benefits through local communities nation states and entire regions By emphasizing local agency and regional interdependencies this metaphor reconfigures current narratives about the China India border and opens a new perspective on the long history of the Silk Roads the modern BCIM Initiative and dam construction along the Nu River in China and the Teesta River in India Together the authors show that positive interaction among people on both sides of a border generates larger cross border communities which can pressure for cooperation and development India China offers the hope that people divided by arbitrary geo political boundaries can circumvent race gender class religion and other social barriers to form more inclusive institutions and forms of governance

PLATE: Product Lifetimes And The Environment Conny A. Bakker, 2017-11-15 Product lifetimes are critical for the circular economy resource efficiency waste reduction and low carbon strategies for sustainability and are therefore of interest to academics from many different disciplines as well as original equipment manufacturers OEMs and other stakeholders The challenges related to product lifetimes must be tackled from multiple perspectives making the sharing of knowledge and expertise from different disciplines particularly important This book presents papers from the second Product Lifetime and the Environment PLATE conference held in Delft the Netherlands in November 2017 The conference originated from the desire to bring together academic researchers working in the field of sustainability to benefit from each other's knowledge and further advance the field The book includes the 88 full papers delivered at the conference grouped according to the following 7 conference themes design for product longevity product lifetime optimization cultural perspectives on the throwaway society circular economy and product lifetimes business opportunities economic implications and marketing strategies consumer influences on product lifetimes and policy regulation and legislation The book will be of interest to all those concerned with sustainable consumption circular economy and resource efficiency

European Energy Security and US-Russian Competition Ioanna Mavromati, 2025-10-31 This book argues that the influence of US Russian security competition on the energy policies of EU member states and on the development of a unified European energy security policy has been significantly underestimated While most previous studies have focused on internal EU dynamics and the role of Russian interests this work takes a broader perspective by examining how transatlantic rivalries have shaped European approaches to energy security By tracing the evolution of European energy security policy from the Cold War era through the present the book connects shifts in policy to the changing dynamics of US Soviet and later US Russian energy competition It demonstrates that after the Soviet Union's collapse the United States did not initially view European reliance on Russian energy as a threat However as US Russian competition intensified Washington increasingly framed Europe's dependence on Russian gas as a security risk and actively sought to block the expansion of Russian energy infrastructure into Europe The book also explores how despite the EU's early treaties being energy focused energy security only became a central foreign policy concern for the Union in the mid 2000s Ultimately the author argues that scholars of international relations must consider both great power dynamics and intra European factors to fully understand the development of European energy policy The book will be of interest to students and researchers in geopolitics international relations energy politics regional studies and European studies
