Grade Economics Paper November 2014:

Handbook of Academic Integrity Sarah Elaine Eaton, 2023-12-04 The book brings together diverse views from around the world and provides a comprehensive overview of academic integrity and how to create the ethical academy. At the same time, the Handbook does not shy away from some of the vigorous debates in the field such as the causes of academic integrity breaches. There has been an explosion of interest in academic integrity in the last 20-30 years. New technologies that have made it easier than ever for students to cut and paste, coupled with global media scandals of high-profile researchers behaving badly, have resulted in the perception that plagiarism is on the rise. This, in combination with the massification and commercialisation of higher education, has resulted in a burgeoning interest in the importance of academic integrity: how to safeguard it and how to address breaches appropriately. What may have seemed like a relatively easy topic to address—students copying sources without attribution—has in fact turned out to be a complex interdisciplinary field of research requiring contributions from linguists, psychologists, social scientists, anthropologists, teaching and learning specialists, mathematicians, accountants, medical doctors, lawyers, and philosophers, to name just a few. Because of this broad interest and input, this handbook serves as the single authoritative reference work which brings together the vast, growing interdisciplinary and at times contradictory body of literature. For both established researchers/practitioners and those new to the field, this Handbook provides a one-stop shop as well as a launching pad for new explorations and discussions.

2024-25 TGT/PGT Economics Solved Papers YCT Expert Team, 2024-25 TGT/PGT Economics Solved Papers Wall Street, Reforming the Unreformable David E. McClean, 2015-10-06 McClean argues that a collective move towards stewardship within the financial industry is necessary to restore ethical behaviour and public confidence. Drawing on practical examples and offering new policy recommendations, this unique philosophical study paints a picture of what a truly ethical trading culture of the future might look like. Metrics That Matter Zachary Bleemer, Mukul Kumar, Aashish Mehta, Chris Muellerleile, Christopher Newfield, 2023-03-21 This book examines alternative perspectives on often flawed and misleading college metrics to help students make important education decisions. World Yearbook of Education 2019 Radhika Gorur, Sam Sellar, Gita Steiner-Khamsi, 2018-10-03 Digital methodologies, new forms of data visualization, and computer-based learning and assessment are creating new challenges as well as opportunities for scholars in educational research. The World Yearbook of Education 2019 explores this highly relevant topic, opening a new discussion about the various conceptual and methodological challenges and opportunities in contemporary educational research. This volume explores contemporary methods of inquiry with chapters organized around four topics of enduring interest in this field: impacts, patterns, relations, and contexts. The World Yearbook of Education 2019 comprises contributions from internationally renowned scholars exploring novel concepts and methodologies in grappling with contemporary empirical phenomena in educational research. Vital questions such as how we understand the technological developments that are creating new possibilities for and demands on education and how we make sense of complex cases that cut across multiple nations are discussed This newest addition to the prestigious World Yearbook of Education series provides a fascinating read for scholars in the fields of education policy and comparative education It is not only a useful resource for educational researchers and policy makers examining new trends and emerging issues but would be of interest to graduate students exploring innovative methodologies particularly in the study of education and education policy

Data and Research to Improve the U.S. Food Availability System and Estimates of Food Loss National Research Council, Institute of Medicine, Food and Nutrition Board, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, 2015-01-02 The United States Department of Agriculture's USDA's Economic Research Service's ERS Food Availability Data System includes three distinct but related data series on food and nutrient availability for consumption The data serve as popular proxies for actual consumption at the national level for over 200 commodities e.g. fresh spinach, beef and eggs The core Food Availability (FA) data series provides data on the amount of food available per capita for human consumption in the United States with data back to 1909 for many commodities The Loss Adjusted Food Availability (LAFA) data series is derived from the FA data series by adjusting for food spoilage, plate waste and other losses to more closely approximate actual intake The LAFA data provide daily estimates of the per capita availability amounts adjusted for loss e.g. in pounds, ounces, grams and gallons as appropriate, calories and food pattern equivalents i.e. servings of the five major food groups: fruit, vegetables, grains, meat and dairy available for consumption plus the amounts of added sugars and sweeteners and added fats and oils available for consumption This fiscal year as part of its initiative to systematically review all of its major data series ERS decided to review the FADS data system One of the goals of this review is to advance the knowledge and understanding of the measurement and technical aspects of the data supporting FADS so the data can be maintained and improved Data and Research to Improve the U.S. Food Availability System and Estimates of Food Loss is the summary of a workshop convened by the Committee on National Statistics of the National Research Council and the Food and Nutrition Board of the Institute of Medicine to advance knowledge and understanding of the measurement and technical aspects of the data supporting the LAFA data series so that these data series and subsequent food availability and food loss estimates can be maintained and improved The workshop considered such issues as the effects of termination of selected Census Bureau and USDA data series on estimates for affected food groups and commodities, the potential for using other data sources such as scanner data to improve estimates of food availability and possible ways to improve the data on food loss at the farm and retail levels and at restaurants This report considers knowledge gaps, data sources that may be available or could be generated to fill gaps, what can be learned from other countries and international organizations, ways to ensure consistency of treatment of commodities across series and the most promising opportunities for new data for the various food availability series OECD Reviews of School Resources: Responsive School Systems Connecting Facilities, Sectors and Programmes for Student Success OECD, 2018-10-22 This report on Responsive School Systems is the second in a series of thematic comparative reports bringing together findings from the OECD's School Resources Review.
